Punjab Government Notifications and Orders.

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

GENERAL.

The 16th July 1903.

No. 481.—Notification.—The Lieutenant-Governor has heard with deep regret of the death at Rojhán on the morning of the 13th instant of the Hon'ble Nawáb Sir Imám Bakhsh Khán, K.C.I.E., a Member of the Punjab Legislative Council.

At the time of the second Sikh War, in 1848, when the district of Dera Ghází Khan came under British rule, Imám Bakhsh Khán was already at the head of the then turbulent Biloch tribe of Mazárís, whom he controlled in behalf of their Chief, his elder brother, Dost Ali Khán. During the 55 years that have passed since then Sir Imám Bakhsh Khán has been conspicuous for his staunch loyalty to the British Government. In the Mutiny of 1857 the cavalry regiment stationed at Asni, which was then the cantonment dominating the Rájanpur Sub-Division, was utilized for service against the mutineers, and Imám Bakhsh Khán was Risaldár of a corps raised to take its place. From 1859 till his death he exercised the powers of an Honorary Magistrate within his tribal territory, and his keen sense of justice obtained him the respect of his people to such an extent that his authority over them was almost absolute. The power of his personality, however, extended far beyond the country of the Mazári tribe. His influence over the neighbouring Marri and Bugti tribes was most useful to Sir Robert Sandeman when, as Deputy Commissioner of Dera Gházi Khan, he was brought in contact with the Biloch tribes beyond what was then our border. The same officer found him of great assistance in the negotiations with the Khán of Kalát which were brought to a successful issue in 1877, when the title of Nawáb was conferred upon Imám Bakhsh Khán for his long and distinguished services. In 1884 he became a Companion of the Indian Empire, and four years later he was raised to the rank of Knighthood in the same order.

Soon after this the Nawáb was stricken with complete blindness, but his mental faculties never lost their vigour, and he made use of the eyes of those about him in such a way that he kept completely in touch with the outer world. His influence even increased during the last 15 years among the Biloch tribes, both of the Dera Gházi Khan District and of the Bilochistán Agency beyond, and in the jirgas held for the decision of inter-tribal disputes his voice was the most respected and his decisions were never questioned.

For his high qualities and great repute Nawáb Sir Imám Bakhsh Khán was selected to be a Member of the Punjab Legislative Council, and at the time of his death he had nearly completed his two years' term of office. Those who were associated with him during that time keenly appreciated his fine character and acute intelligence.

In the Nawáb there has passed away a remarkable personality and a link with the first years of British rule in the Punjab, and the Lieutenant-Governor and many of his officers feel that they have lost not only a valued adviser but also a much esteemed friend.

PART I.

CULTIVATION OF THE HEMP PLANT.

Rules made by the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, under Section 19 of the Excise Act, 1896, regulating the grant of license for, and the supervision to be exercised over, the cultivation of the hemp plant and the production or preparation of intoxicating drugs from the hemp plant, and the storage of such drugs for the purpose of securing payment of the duty imposed thereupon, and giving effect to the notifications issued under Section 12 of the same Act.

Extent of application and definitions.

1. These rules shall apply only to districts or portions of districts in the Punjab in respect of which the cultivation of the hemp plant and the production or preparation of intoxicating drugs from the hemp plant so cultivated, except under, and subject to the conditions of, a license granted under these rules, is prohibited by notification issued under the powers conferred by Section 12 of the Excise Act, 1896.

2. In these rules, unless a contrary intention appear from the subject or context,—

(a) "license" means a license for the cultivation of the hemp plant and the production or preparation of intoxicating drugs from the hemp plant so cultivated, granted under the provisions of, and subject to the payment of the duty imposed by, notifications published under Sections 12 and 13 of the Excise Act, 1896, on such cultivation;

(d) that intoxicating drugs produced or prepared from the hemp plant cultivated under such special license shall not be used for any purpose other than for consumption by the applicant and the members of his household, and the attendants of, and visitors to, the temple, dharamsála or religious institution of which the applicant is the manager or head ; and

(e) that neither the hemp plant so cultivated nor any intoxicating drug produced or prepared therefrom, or any portion thereof, shall be bartered or sold.

Licensed cultivators.

5. The following conditions shall apply to all licenses other than special licenses, namely :—

GENERAL.

The 7th September 1903.

No. 1021.—Notification—The following is republished for general information:—

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public) No. 2831—42, dated 8th December 1899.

THE Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England the desirability of providing themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

Sanction for a temporary absence from their quarters at night may be given by the Superintendent to the other members of the staff. Except the Superintendent, the Manager, Warders, and the Hospital Assistant, any member of the staff may be permitted by the Committee of Visitors to reside outside the school, but in giving permission under this rule the Committee may impose such conditions as it thinks fit.

VIII.—In all matters connected with the school, the staff shall be immediately subordinate to the Superintendent, but in the matters dealt with in these rules under Part B, Medical, the Superintendent shall be governed by the advice and recommendations of the Visiting Medical Officer.

Whenever he reports any member of the staff for misconduct (except the Hospital Assistant) the Superintendent may suspend him if he thinks it necessary to do so, but any such suspension shall be immediately reported to the Committee of Visitors.

II.—The boys in each sub-division shall, in so far as the Superintendent and the Committee of Visitors find that it is possible, be kept separate from those in the other sub-divisions.

III.—Every boy admitted to the Reformatory will be accompanied by the opinion of the Magistrate who tried him as to the sub-division in which he should be placed. On admission he shall be placed in the sub-division recommended by the Magistrate. But the Superintendent should closely observe his character and idiosyncrasies, and, if necessary, transfer him to another sub-division, keeping in view the object of protecting boys whose character has not developed any very serious defects as far as possible from the influence of others likely to demoralise them.

IV.—If on the admission of a boy or at any subsequent time the Superintendent is of opinion that it would be to the advantage of the boy to discharge him or that in the interests of the Institution it is inexpedient to retain him in the Reformatory, he shall report the case, through the Committee of Visitors, to the Inspector-General, for the orders of the Local Government.

V.—A boy in the Junior Division shall on attaining the age of 14 be transferred to one or the other of the sub-divisions in the Senior Division according to the Superintendent's judgment as to his character at the time.

No. 1810.—Notification.—The following is published for general information:—

Government of India, Home Department, Notification No. 1485 (Sanitary-Plague), dated Simla, the 30th September 1903.

By the Home Department Notification No. 2278, dated the 25th October 1902, the Governor-General in Council, under the powers conferred by section 2, sub-section (1), of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), directed that pilgrimage to the Hejáz during the season of 1903 might be permitted to any resident of India, subject to certain precautions, from the ports of Bombay and Karáchi in the Presidency of Bombay; and of Chittagong in Bengal.

2. One of the precautions adopted during the pilgrim season of 1902 and in preceding years was the collection of all intending pilgrims at a provincial observation camp near their homes where they were detained for at least ten days, and where their wearing apparel, bedding, etc., was disinfected, previous to their despatch in special trains or carriages to the central camp at or near the ports of embarkation. Experience has shown that it is difficult, if not impossible, to enforce the preliminary period of detention in a provincial camp without resort to stringent measures from which the Government of India are averse. With the concurrence of His Majesty's Government, it has accordingly been decided that during the ensuing pilgrim season no provincial camps for the preliminary observation of pilgrims shall be established and pilgrims shall be permitted to proceed direct to the large camps at the ports of shipment. The Haj will accordingly be open during the ensuing pilgrim season to any resident in India, subject to the regulations hereinafter stated.

3. The orders contained in the Home Department Notification No. 2278, dated the 25th October 1902, are hereby cancelled.

4. The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct—

(1) That no person shall be permitted to embark with the object of making a pilgrimage to Mecca except at the port of Bombay in the Presidency of Bombay and of Chittagong in the Province of Bengal.

(2) That no person shall be permitted to embark for such purpose at such port unless he has been kept under observation in a place appointed for the purpose at or near the port of embarkation until such time as the Medical Officer in charge shall be satisfied that all risk of such person conveying the infection of plague has completely abated.

(3) That no passage tickets for the Hejáz shall be sold except at the places appointed for the detention of intending pilgrims under observation.

5. Although they have decided that, subject to the foregoing precautions, the pilgrimage to the Hejáz may be permitted, the Government of India think it necessary to repeat the warning given last year, that intending pilgrims will be well advised in deferring the fulfilment of their purpose until another season, in view especially of the stringent quarantine rules imposed by the Turkish Government and of the inconvenience and harassment to which it is likely that they will be subjected on arriving in Arabia.

The route viâ Bombay is intended for the convenience of pilgrims from the Punjab.

The 15th October 1903.

Punjab Government Notifications and Orders

POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

NATIVE STATES.

The 4th November 1903.

No. 813.—Notification.—The following ceremonial observed at Mandi on the occasion of the Installation of His Highness Rája Bhowáni Sen of Mandi on the 31st October 1903 is published for general information:—

On Saturday, the 31st October 1903, at 8-30 A. M. the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies held a public Darbár at Mandi for the purpose of formally installing His Highness Rája Bhowáni Sen as Rája of Mandi.

The Darbár was attended by the Civil and Military Officers of Government present at Mandi and by the guests, the officials and the Darbarís of the Mandi State.

The entrance to the Darbár Shámiána was lined by troops and a guard of honour with band was drawn up outside.

Two high officials waited on the Lieutenant-Governor at his residence at 8-15 A. M. and conducted His Honour to the Darbár Shámiána. His Honour was accompanied by his personal staff, the Commissioner of Jullundur and the Chief Secretary to the Punjab Government.

The Rája, accompanied by the Assistant Commissioner of Kulu, met the Lieutenant-Governor half way and accompanied him to the Darbár tent.

On the arrival of His Honour at the tent the troops presented arms, the first part of the National Anthem was played, and a salute of 15 guns was fired. The Rája conducted the Lieutenant-Governor to his seat in the Darbár tent, and all present rose.

On the right of the Lieutenant-Governor sat the Raja of Mandi, the Commissioner of Jullundur, the Assistant Commissioner of Kulu, the native guests and the Ahlkárs of the State in the order of their precedence. On the left of the Lieutenant-Governor sat the Chief Secretary to the Punjab Government, the other officers in attendance on His Honour, and the rest of the guests of the Mandi State.

Behind the seats first occupied by the Lieutenant-Governor and the Rája there was a raised dais, on which were placed two chairs of State, one of which represented a Masnad. When all had resumed their seats, the Chief Secretary declared the Darbár open. The Lieutenant-Governor then addressed the Rája of Mandi in English as follows :—

" It is now nearly 53 years since the late Rája Bije Sen, then a boy of four years of age, succeeded his father, Rája Balbír Sen, on the gaddee of this State, and the occasion of the assemblage here to-day is consequently only the second accession of a Rája that has occurred in Mandi since British rule was established in the Punjab. Rája Bije Sen was invested with ruling powers on attaining his majority on October 12th, 1866, and the investiture ceremony was performed by the Commissioner of Jullundur. This therefore is the first time that a Lieutenant-Governor has visited Mandi for the purpose of installing or investing a Ruler of the State. It gives me much pleasure to perform this duty, for the late Rája was a very old friend of mine, and I am glad that his wishes as to the succession have been gratified and that his own son Bhowáni Sen has been selected to be the new Ruler of the Mandi State. Throughout the long period during which Rája Bije Sen occupied the gaddee, he was distinguished by his profound loyalty to the British throne and particularly by his veneration for the late Queen-Empress Victoria ; and he well deserved the permission which he received from the British Government to select Bhowáni Sen as his successor. I trust, Bhowáni Sen, that you will by your future work in this State show your gratitude for the kindness that has been shown to you by the British Government, that your loyalty to the King-Emperor will be as marked as that of your father, and that when the time comes for your investiture with full powers you will administer the affairs of the State in such a way as to be loved by your people and trusted by Government.

" It is in order that Rája Bhowáni Sen may have every chance of distinguishing himself as a Ruler that the administration of the State is for the next two years to be entrusted to a Superintendent, Mr. T. Millar, who has been specially selected from the Punjab Commission for the work and who will shortly take up his duties here. During these two years the young Chief will first complete his education at the Aitchison College and then learn the work of administration from the Superintendent. This arrangement has been made at the request of Rája Bhowáni Sen himself, with the approval of his relations and of all the friends of the late Rája, and is undoubtedly for the good of both Chief and people.

" I cannot pass unnoticed on this occasion the rival claims to the gaddee that have been put forward by various collateral relatives of the late Rája. These claims have been rejected in favour of Rája Bhowáni Sen, and I call upon the claimants to loyally accept the decision of the British Government in this matter and to submit to the authority of their Chief.

" Bhowáni Sen, I now instal you as Rája of Mandi."

An Urdu translation of the address was read by the Chief Secretary to the Punjab Government. The Installation Khillat was then brought in and conferred upon the Raja. All present then rose, and His Honour tied round the Raja's neck a necklace and attached to his turban a serpech as the insignia of Chiefship, and seated the Raja on the Masnad, declaring him to be the Raja of Mandi. The audience then resumed their seats. The band in attendance played and a salute of 11 guns was fired in honour of His Highness the Raja.

The Raja then arose and replied to His Honour's address as below :—

" May it please Your Honour,—My people and I are deeply sensible of the honour conferred upon us by your having kindly consented to be here to-day to perform the ceremony of my installation, and we thank you for the pleasure and satisfaction this kind act has afforded us.

' It was with pleasurable feelings that we received the decision of Government appointing a British officer to superintend the affairs of the State, and it will be my earnest endeavour to profit by his guidance and instruction in the lessons of administration.

" I need hardly assure Your Honour that I shall endeavour to follow in the footsteps of my kind father in his unswerving loyalty and deep devotion to the British Government, and it will always be my aim to prove these sentiments by striving to advance the welfare and contentment of my people.

" In conclusion I desire to thank Your Honour for the words of kind advice and encouragement spoken to-day, which I shall strive to take to heart for the guidance of my future conduct. "

On the conclusion of His Highness' reply, the high officials of the State were presented to His Honour by the Commissioner of Jullundur, each offering the usual nazr, which was touched and remitted.

Four khillats were then conferred by the Lieutenant-Governor upon Padha Jiwa Nand, Wazir, Lala Sri Gopal, Vakil, Dr. Vidya Sagar, and Mian Ganga Singh, Jagirdar of the Mandi State.

Attar and pan were given to the Raja by the Lieutenant-Governor and to his high officials by the Mir Munshi of the Punjab Government. His Honour then left the Darbar under the ceremonies observed on his arrival.

PART I.

REPORTING OF CASES AND DEATHS.

A.—General.

(1). The following persons shall, within three hours of a case of plague coming to their notice, report to the District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Officer, or Tahsíldár, having jurisdiction in the place in which the case occurs, the occurrence of any case of plague under the circumstances set forth in each sub-clause respectively :—

(i) When the case of plague occurs in any hotel, factory, or public serái, the proprietor of such hotel, factory, or public serái, or in the default or in the absence of such proprietor the person who for the time being is managing such hotel, factory, or public serái, or in the default or absence of such person, every servant employed in such hotel factory or public serái by the proprietor or manager thereof.

(ii) When the case of plague occurs in any Government, District Board, or Municipal institution or office, the officer immediately in charge of such institution or office, or in his absence the subordinate left in charge thereof, or in the default or absence of such subordinate every servant employed in such institution or office.

The Magistrate receiving the report shall immediately forward a copy of the report to the Civil Surgeon and, if he is not the District Magistrate, to the District Magistrate.

(2). If a case of plague occurs in any railway train or on any railway premises, the person discharging the duties of Station Master at the nearest station to the place at which the case of plague is discovered shall without delay and by telegram if the station is not situated at the head-quarters of the district report the case to the District Magistrate of the district in which the station is situated, or, if the station is not situated in British territory, but in territory over which the British Government has jurisdiction, to the Magistrate of the district to which the territory for the purposes of jurisdiction has been attached, and to the authorities of the Native State. The District Magistrate shall at once communicate a copy of the report to the Civil Surgeon.

B.—In Villages and Towns not being Municipal Towns.

(1). Every Lambardár and Chaukídár shall be responsible for reporting without delay to the tahsíl any unusual sickness or mortality among the people in his own village, or any excessive mortality among rats in his own village which may come to his notice or of which he may be informed, and the Patwári shall similarly be responsible for reporting without delay for all the villages in his circle.

(2) Every person in whose household or family a case of or death from plague occurs shall be responsible for giving immediate information of it to the Chaukídár of his village or of the part of the village in which he resides.

(3) All cases of and deaths from plague that occur in any village shall be reported weekly by the Chaukídár at the same time and in the same way as deaths from other diseases and reports of them shall be forwarded to the Civil Surgeon in the same manner, except that for any week which includes the end of one month and the beginning of the next details shall be given of the number of cases and deaths reported for the portions of each of the months included in the week.

(4). The Lambardárs and Chaukídárs shall be responsible for specially reporting the first five cases and the first five deaths that occur in their village. They shall make an immediate report of each of the first five cases or deaths as they occur to the Patwári and the Patwári shall forward the report without delay to the tahsíl.

(5). The Kánúngo of the circle shall be responsible for seeing that the Patwári carries out his obligation under Rules (1) and (4). The Zaildár will be responsible that the Lambardárs and Chaukídárs in his circle fulfil their obligations under both the above rules.

(6). The Tahsíldár on receiving a report under Rules (1) and (4) shall at once send on a copy to the District Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon.

C.—In Municipal Towns.

(1). Every person shall be responsible for making a special report of every case of or death from plague which occurs in circumstances in which, under the ordinary rules of the Municipality relating to the reporting of deaths, he is responsible for reporting any death. Such special report shall be made without delay upon the occurrence of the case or death, and it shall be made at the office of the Health Officer or Medical Officer in charge of plague operations if there is one, and at the Municipal Office if there is no Health Officer or no such Medical Officer.

(2). Every report received under Rule (1) shall be communicated immediately to the President or the Vice-President of the Municipality or to some member of the Municipal Committee specially appointed by the District Magistrate to receive reports under these rules.

(3). Every Municipal Commissioner in charge of a ward or any local area, every Muhalladár, and every servant of the Municipal Committee not being an enrolled Police Officer, shall report, to the President or the Vice-President or the member of the Municipality specially appointed by the District Magistrate to receive reports under these rules, the occurrence of all cases of, and deaths from, plague or of excessive mortality among rats coming to his knowledge; and the President, Vice-President or member shall give immediate information of such report to the Health Officer or the Medical Officer in charge of plague operations in the Municipality if there is one. After plague has established itself in the Municipality, the President, Vice-President or member may direct the discontinuance of reports under this rule.

(4). The Health Officer or Medical Officer on receiving a report under Rule (1) or Rule (3), or where there is no Health Officer or Medical Officer the President, Vice-President or member on receiving a report under Rule (2), or Rule (3), shall send on immediate information of it to the District Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon of the district: after plague has established itself in the Municipality, no such information shall be sent on to the District Magistrate if he directs that it need not be sent, and such information may be sent to the Civil Surgeon, if he so directs, periodically instead of immediately.

D.—Of Inoculated Persons.

The person responsible for and making the report of any case of or death from plague shall also report whether the person attacked or deceased had been inoculated or not, and, if inoculated, how long before his attack or death.

PART II.

COMPULSORY REMOVAL OF PLAGUE PATIENTS IN MUNICIPAL TOWNS.

(1). If any friendless or unattended person who is believed to be suffering from plague is found in any public place, he may be removed under the order of a Magistrate, and under arrangements to be made by the Municipal authorities, to a suitable place which the Municipality shall promise for voluntary isolation or for compulsary isolation under these rules.

(2). If a person who is believed to be suffering from plague has, though attended, no home and he and his friends are unable to provide accommodation for him, he may be removed as under Rule (1).

(3). If a case of plague occurs in a serái or other place used for the accommodation of travellers, the plague patient may be removed as under Rule (1) by a special order of the District Magistrate issued in exercise of his discretion. In passing an order under this rule the District Magistrate shall have regard to the feelings of the inhabitants of the neighbourhood and to the degree in which the removal is likely to be efficacious in protecting the town from an outbreak. When a case of plague has occurred in a serái or other such place as aforesaid, and the plague patient has not been removed under this rule, the proprietor or lessee, and the person who for the time being is in charge of the serái or other such place, shall be responsible for affixing a notice and a distinguishing mark in a conspicuous place at the entrance of the serái or place for the purpose of intimating to travellers that the place has been infected. This notice and mark shall be retained until the District Magistrate permits their removal. During any absence from the district head-quarters or for any other special temporary reason the District Magistrate may delegate to any Magistrate his powers under this rule, and in the case of a Municipal town not situated at the head-quarters of a district the power given under this rule to the District Magistrate may, in his absence from such Municipal town, be exercised by the Sub-Divisional Officer or the Tahsídár.

(4). If a person suffering from plague is left unattended in a private house, and if after notice given under arrangements to be made by the Municipal authorities no one is forthcoming to look after him, the District Magistrate may authorize his removal to a place of isolation as in Rule (1). The District Magistrate's powers under this rule may be delegated by him, or exercised by the Sub-Divisional Officer or Tahsíldár, as under Rule (3).

(5). No person may be compulsorily removed to a place of isolation except under Rules (1) to (4), and, except under Rules (1) and (2), no moribund person may be so removed.

PART III.

REMOVAL FROM UNINFECTED TOWN OR QUATER OF TOWN OF PERSON COMING FROM A PLAGUE-INFECTED AREA.

When any person who has recently been in an area which has been declared by the Local Government to be a plague-infected area, within ten days of leaving such an area, takes up his abode, either temporarily or permanently, in a street or quarter of a town which is not infected with plague, the District Magistrate, on receipt of the complaint or petition of any five or more adult inhabitants of such street or quarter presented within ten days of the arrival therein of the person whose presence is complained of, may, provided he is satisfied that their action is boná fide and represents the general opinion of the inhabitants of such street or quarter, issue an order in writing to such person to remove himself forthwith from such street or quarter to some other place where his presence will not be objected to, and shall inform him that in case of disobedience he will be liable to the penalty provided by Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code. If such order is not obeyed the person to whom it is issued may be prosecuted on the complaint of any one of the inhabitants on whose initiative the said order was issued.

PART IV.

RIGHT OF UNINFECTED VILLAGES TO REFUSE ACCESS TO PERSONS COMING FROM A PLAGUE-INFECTED AREA.

(1). The inhabitants of villages are authorized to refuse access to their village of any person coming from an area declared in the Punjab Gazette to be an infected area, until such person has spent ten days outside the village, and until his clothes and baggage have been thoroughly disinfected in some manner.

Originally issued as Rule 33 of Punjab Government Notification No. 1086 of 5th September 1901.

(2). If the inhabitants of a village acting in accordance with the provisions of Rule (1) of this Part have endeavoured to refuse access to their village to any person, and such person has nevertheless entered the village, the District Magistrate may, on the complaint or petition of a Lambardár or of any other representative inhabitant, made not more than ten days after his entry, direct such person by an order in writing to remove himself from the village within a time to be fixed in the order and inform him that in case of disobedience he will be liable to the penalty provided in Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code, and any person disobeying such order may be prosecuted on the complaint of a Lambardár or of any other representative inhabitant of the village.

PART V.

COMPULSORY EVACUATION OF MINORITY IN VILLAGES.

If the District Magistrate is satisfied, on petition made to him by any inhabitant or inhabitants of a village and after full local inquiry, that all but an inconspicuous minority of the inhabitants of a village boná fide desire that the village should be totally evacuated, he may by an order in writing, posted in convenient places in the village, and proclaimed there by beat of drum or in any such other manner as may seem to him to be appropriate or necessary, direct all the inhabitants to vacate their houses within a time to be fixed in the order and shall inform them that in case of disobedience they will be liable to the penalty provided by Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code. Any person disobeying such order may be prosecuted on the complaint of a Lambardár or of any other representative inhabitant.

C. J. HALLIFAX,

Judicial and Genl. Secy. to Govt., Punjab.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor in the Home (Medical and Sanitary) Department, No. 1936 L.-P., dated 16th November 1903.

READ—

Report of the Punjab Plague Committee, 1903.

Letter No. 2071 S.-P., dated the 21st September 1903, to the Government of India, Home Department.

Letter No. 1576, dated the 24th October 1903, from the Government of India, Home Department.

RESOLUTION.

THE plague epidemic which afflicted the Punjab in 1902-03 exceeded the epidemics of previous years in respect of the area affected, and in view of the well-established tendency of the disease to recrudesce each year and its characteristic extension each year to an ever-widening area of infection, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor fears that the outbreak in the Punjab is not likely to be less disastrous in 1903-04 than in the plague season that has just come to an end. At the same time he feels with regret that the plague measures hitherto adopted by the Punjab Government have failed to secure the thorough co-operation of the people or to exert much influence on the course of the epidemic, though they have thrown a considerable burden of extra work on to the shoulders of the Executive, as well as of the Medical, Officers of Government. His Honour has therefore deemed it necessary to review the plague measures of the past and in the light of recent experience to reconsider the policy to be observed in dealing with plague in the future.

2. In the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion the time has now come to cancel formally certain rules which though still existing are not now acted upon, and to relax as far as possible other rules, passed with the object of compelling the people to adopt plague measures. Moreover, it must now be recognized as expedient and necessary to relieve Executive Officers of routine work connected with the administration of plague measures, which, subject to the general control and advice of Executive Officers, should be entrusted to the Medical Department of Government as a part of their ordinary duties.

3. After taking the advice of a Committee of experienced Executive and Medical Officers, who carefully and thoroughly considered the whole question, His Honour is now pleased to issue for general information and for the guidance of all officers concerned the following orders and instructions in which have been incorporated orders already issued, with such omissions, alterations and additions as now seem necessary. All previous orders and instructions on the matters dealt with in this Resolution are hereby cancelled.

ORDERS AND INSTRUCTIONS.

Scope of these orders and instructions.

I.—Except in so far as they concern changes in the control of the administration of plague measures in Hill Stations, these orders and instructions do not relate to the case of Cantonments and Hill Stations, to which the existing rules will continue to apply.

Definition of terms " town," " village " and " fresh infection."

In these orders and instructions the expression " town " refers only to Municipal towns, and the expression " village " includes all Notified Areas, non-municipal towns and villages. Moreover by a " fresh infection " of any town or village is meant the first outbreak in a town or village and any subsequent outbreak that occurs after a period of at least two months during which no death from plague has been reported in the town or village.

ADMINISTRATION AND CONTROL OF THE PLAGUE DEPARTMENT.

Inspector General of Civil Hospitals to be Chief Administrative Officer for plague measures.

II.—The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will in future be the Chief Administrative Officer for all plague measures. The responsibility and authority for all orders regarding plague matters will be vested in him, provided that without reference to Government he shall not issue any order sanctioning the adoption of any measure or of any method of administering any measure not approved of by Government, or of any change in such measure or the method of administering it.

Communications to and from Chief Plague Administrative Officer.

III.—All official letters relating to plague for the information or orders of the Inspector-General and the covers containing them should be addressed to the " Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals (Plague Branch), " and all official letters to Government on plague matters should be sent through the Inspector-General. Orders will issue in his name and by his authority, and the Chief Plague Medical Officer will act as his Personal Assistant for plague matters, the Inspector-General being permitted to delegate to the Chief Plague Medical Officer such of his functions as he thinks necessary. The Chief Plague Medical Officer may countersign Travelling Allowance and Contingent bills.

Civil Surgeon to be District Plague Medical Officer.

IV.—The plague work of each district, both in villages and towns, will be under the immediate control of the Civil Surgeon, who with reference to such work will be known as the District Plague Medical Officer. He, with the help of the Health Officer, if there is one, will be responsible for giving personal attention to the carrying out of plague measures at the head-quarters town of his district. For the other towns and villages in districts where infection has spread and such spread renders it impracticable for him personally to supervise measures efficiently by the short tours for which provision is made in Rule VI below, he will be assisted by a special supervising agency under his control, as provided in Rule VII below. In towns not at the head-quarters of a district the Medical Officer in immediate charge of plague operations will be the Health Officer, if there is one, or where there is no Health Officer, the Medical Officer in charge of the Municipal Dispensary. If there is no Dispensary in the Municipality, or if for any reason a special Medical Officer is required to take charge of or assist in the operations, such an officer will be deputed for the purpose.

Subordinate Medical Officers to be posted to districts on outbreak of plague.

V.—When plague breaks out in a district at least one special Assistant Surgeon and one or two Hospital Assistants should immediately be sent there by the Inspector General of Civil Hospitals for employment especially on plague measures, and the number of such officers should be increased subsequently if necessary. As ordered below, the Assistant Surgeon will be available for inoculation work, and he is intended for such work as well as for such general plague duty as the District Plague Medical Officer may require him to perform, while one of the principal duties of the Hospital Assistants will be the supervision of disinfection.

Special tours by Civil Surgeons on plague duty.

VI.—On the first infection of a district and in order to secure the adoption of appropriate measures in the initial stage of the outbreak when measures are likely to be most effective in checking the spread of infection, the Civil Surgeon may be so relieved of his regular Jail and other head-quarters work as to permit him to leave his head-quarters for a week at a time when he, with the concurrence of the District Magistrate, considers it necessary, for the purpose of supervising and encouraging plague measures. During such periods of absence, not exceeding a week at a time, the Civil Surgeon may continue to draw his Jail allowance, provided that executive arrangements are made for the charge of the Jail without charge to the State.

Appointment of Assistant Plague Medical Officers.

VII.—When plague in any district extends so widely and the demand for disinfection, inoculation and other medical and sanitary measures becomes so great that the District Plague Medical Officer is unable to cope with the work of its supervision as well as with his ordinary work, he should be afforded the assistance of an officer to assist him in supervising plague measures and in performing inoculations and doing plague work generally. Such a supervising officer, to be styled an Assistant Plague Medical Officer, shall be attached to a district when necessary at the discretion of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, and he hall work directly under the orders of the District Plague Medical Officer; but it will not in all cases be necessary to appoint a supervising officer to each infected district, for in some cases the supervising officer may be appointed for more than one district.

Plague establishment for District Plague Medical Officer's office.

VIII.—As soon as plague breaks out in a district and the Civil Surgeon has to perform the duties of District Plague Medical Officer he may engage the services of a special clerk for plague duty on Rs. 30 per mensem and a special chaprási on Rs. 6 per mensem.

Equipment, clerical establishment and chaprásís for Assistant Plague Medical Officers and Assistant Surgeons on plague duty.

IX.—The Civil Surgeon shall, from the stocks at his disposal for ordinary medical requirements, equip with medicines and instruments, as may be necessary, all Assistant Plague Medical Officers, Assistant Surgeons and other Medical Officers specially employed on plague duty in his district, and he may engage for each Assistant Plague Medical Officer one clerk on Rs. 30 per mensem and two chaprásís on Rs. 6 per mensem each, and for each Assistant Surgeon on plague duty one clerk on Rs. 20 per mensem and one chaprási on Rs. 6 per mensem.

Period of engagement of plague clercial and menial establishment.

X.—All clerks and chaprásís engaged under the two preceding rules may be entertained only for so long as the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals may direct. As soon as any clerk or chaprási is engaged or discharged the District Plague Medical Officer shall report the date of entertainment or discharge without delay to the Inspector-General, who on receipt of the report shall fix a period for the entertainment of the clerk or chaprási in question, provided that the services of each clerk or chaprási shall be dispensed with prior to the expiration of the period so fixed if their services are no longer required in connexion with plague, and that if they continue to be required in connexion with plague their services may be retained up to dates from time to time specified by the Inspector-General beyond the period so fixed. Any orders passed by the Inspector-General under this rule shall be communicated without delay to the Accountant-General.

Authority of Inspector-General and District Plague Medical Officers over plague establishments.

XI.—All orders to the medical, sanitary, disinfecting and other establishment engaged under the District Plague Medical Officer in connexion with plague measures will be issued by the District Plague Medical Officer and the authority of the Inspector-General and of District Plague Medical Officers in matters relating to plague establishments engaged under them will be the same as they exercise with reference to the ordinary establishments of the Medical Department, except that District Plague Medical Officers are hereby authorised to sanction the employment of mistrís for desiccators at a cost not exceeding Rs. 15 per mensem, of mates for disinfection gangs, and of coolies, sweepers, &c., for plague measures in general. The rules relating to the permanent medical establishment in respect of control, transfer, travelling allowance, &c., shall, as far as is possible and except as is specially provided in these rules, apply to temporary establishment engaged especially for plague duty.

The position of District Magistrates and Commissioners in connexion with plague measures.

XII.—In respect of all plague measures the District Plague Medical Officer will be bound to keep the District Magistrate fully informed and to act in consultation with him and to be guided by his advice and orders. The District Magistrate will act in plague matters under the control of the Commissioner, and the District Magistrate as well as his ordinary Civil District and Tahsíl staff are required to keep themselves informed of the progress of plague in their jurisdictions and of the attitude of the people towards the measures approved by Government. Civil Officers should do all that lies in their power to assist and forward the policy approved by Government and should use their influence to induce the people to accept appropriate measures. If the strength of the head-quarters staff permits of it and the District Magistrate thinks that any particularly valuable results are likely to follow from special arrangements for offering advice to the people, it might be desirable for him to direct an Assistant Commissioner or Extra Assistant Commissioner (if possible the one who is most likely to have influence in the area in question) to tour in an infected area and while performing such of his ordinary duties as he can perform on tour to devote himself as much as possible to advising the people on matters connected with plague. But, generally, if, in consideration of the extent of infection in a particular area and the attitude of the people in it, it is advisable to depute a Civil Officer specially to assist in that area, the Lieutenant Governor thinks that the permanent local Tahsíldár is the officer who is likely to secure the best results, and, in order that his duties at the tahsíl head-quarters may not interfere with his touring, for the purpose of assisting in connexion with plague measures, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that, in special circumstances rendering this desirable, the Tahsíldár should be relieved of his current work at the tahsíl head-quarters by an officer put temporarily in charge of that work under arrangements to be sanctioned by the Commissioner: with a temporary officer in charge of the current work both the Tahsíldár and his permanent Náib would be in a position to be on tour at the same time.

Channel of communication in plague matters.

XIII.—For all matters connected with the strength of the medical staff specially required for plague work in any district the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will be entirely responsible, and he will be guided by the requirements of the local medical authorities as communicated to him after such medical authorities have consulted the District Officers ; but for any question involving a change in the policy approved by Government or the method of administering it, or for proposals involving any large or unusual expenditure, references should be made through the channel of the District Plague Medical Officer, the District Magistrate, and the Commissioner, who will submit them, when necessary, for the orders of Government through the Inspector-General. In all other matters the District Plague Medical Officer should refer direct to the Inspector-General for his orders or the orders of Government.

PLAGUE MEASURES.

Plague rules having the force of law: prosecutions not to be freely undertaken ; periodical report to Government of all prosecutions.

XIV.—In so far as towns and villages in the plains (not being cantonments) are concerned, attention is invited to Punjab Government Notification No. 1935 L.-P., dated 16th November 1903, cancelling all existing rules with the force of law notified by the Punjab Government under Act III of 1897, and republishing with such revision and addition as are necessary such rules with the force of law under the Act as concern measures which must, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, be enforced strictly and, if necessary, by prosecution and penalty. Prosecutions for breach of plague rules should, however, be discouraged, and the instructions contained in the following paragraph, reproduced from the Plague Manual of 1902, are reaffirmed with a view to their strict observance in future:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor desires that prosecutions under Section 269 Indian Penal Code, against persons who are considered to have done any 'negligent act likely to spread infection' should not be instituted except in very special cases. He therefore desires that the instructions contained in the letter marginally noted should be strictly observed, viz, that prosecutions under Section 269, Indian Penal Code, should not be instituted by Plague Officers of their own motion, but should be instituted by them only after the sanction of the Commissioner to such prosecutions has been obtained.

Circular No 10—526 L. P., dated the 1st of April 1902.

"At the end of every month the Deputy Commissioner of each plague-infected district shall submit, for the information of the Lieutenant-Governor, a statement showing the number of prosecutions instituted under Sections 188 and 269, Indian Penal Code, with a brief abstract of the facts connected with each."

The rules now in force under Act III of 1897 are, for convenience of reference, quoted in the following paragraphs in connexion with the other orders and instructions which deal with the measures to which they relate: such rules have the force of law and are indicated by a line down the margin.

OBLIGATION TO REPORT CASES AND DEATHS.

Obligation to report plague cases and deaths.

XV.—Early information of the occurrence of plague is very important for it is only when plague is detected immediately after its outbreak or importation that the best use can be made of disinfection and evacuation, and that there is any hope of checking the disease before many lives have been lost or before the infection has become regularly established. We can look for any real improvement in the obtaining of early information only from the action of the people themselves, and the necessity and advantages of prompt reporting should be impressed upon them. The medical examination against his will or the will of his relatives and connexions of any person suspected of having plague or of having died of the disease is prohibited, though with the consent of the person or of his relatives and connexions medical examinations may be made for the purpose of obtaining correct information or of resolving doubts as to the existence of plague.

The legal obligation to report cases and deaths from plague will in future be governed by the following rules, and as these have the force of law breaches of the rules may be punished under the provisions of Act III of 1897:—

A—General.

(1) The following persons shall, within three hours of a case of plague coming to their notice, report to the District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Officer, or Tahsíldár, having jurisdiction in the place in which the case occurs, the occurrence of any case of plague under the circumstances set forth in each sub-clause respectively:—

(i) When the case of plague occurs in any hotel, factory, or public serái, the proprietor of such hotel, factory, or public serái, or in the default or in the absence of such proprietor the person who for the time being is managing such hotel, factory, or public serái, or in the default or absence of such person, every servant employed in such hotel factory or public serái by the proprietor or manager thereof.

(ii) When the case of plague occurs in any Government, District Board, or Municipal institution or office, the officer immediately in charge of such institution or office, or in his absence the subordinate left in charge thereof, or in the default or absence of such subordinate every servant employed in such institution or office.

The Magistrate receiving the report shall immediately forward a copy of the report to the Civil Surgeon and, if he is not the District Magistrate, to the District Magistrate.

(2) If a case of plague occurs in any railway train or on any railway premises, the person discharging the duties of Station Master at the nearest station to the place at which the case of plague is discovered shall without delay and by telegram if the station is not situated at the head-quarters of the district report the case to the District Magistrate of the district in which the station is situated, or, if the station is not situated in British territory, but in territory over which the British Government has jurisdiction, to the Magistrate of the district to which the territory for the purposes of jurisdiction has been attached, and to the authorities of the Native State. The District Magistrate shall at once communicate a copy of the report to the Civil Surgeon.

B.—In Villages and Towns not being Municipal Towns.

(1) Every Lambardár and Chaukídár shall be responsible for reporting without delay to the tahsíl any unusual sickness or mortality among the people in his own village, or any excessive mortality among rats in his own village which may come to his notice or of which he may be informed, and the Patwári shall similarly be responsible for reporting without delay for all the villages in his circle.

(2) Every person in whose household or family a case of or death from plague occurs shall be responsible for giving immediate information of it to the Chaukídár of his village or of the part of the village in which he resides.

(3) All cases of and deaths from plague that occur in any village shall be reported weekly by the Chaukídár at the same time and in the same way as deaths from other diseases and reports of them shall be forwarded to the Civil Surgeon in the same manner, except that for any week which includes the end of one month and the beginning of the next details shall be given of the number of cases and deaths reported for the portions of each of the months included in the week.

(4) The Lambardárs and Chaukídárs shall be responsible for specially reporting the first five cases and the first five deaths that occur in their village. They shall make an immediate report of each of the first five cases or deaths as they occur to the Patwári and the Patwári shall forward the report without delay to the tahsíl.

(5) The Kánúngo of the circle shall be responsible for seeing that the Patwári carries out his obligation under Rules (1) and (4). The Zaildár will be responsible that the Lambardárs and Chaukídárs in his circle fulfil their obligations under both the above rules.

(6) The Tahsíldár on receiving a report under Rules (1) and (4) shall at once send on a copy to the District Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon.

C.—In Municipal Towns.

(1) Every person shall be responsible for making a special report of every case of or death from plague which occurs in circumstances in which, under the ordinary rules of the Muncipality relating to the reporting of deaths, he is responsible for reporting any death. Such special report shall be made without delay upon the occurrence of the case or death, and it shall be made at the office of the Health Officer or Medical Officer in charge of plague operations if there is one, and at the Municipal Office if there is no Health Officer or no such Medical Officer.

(2) Every report received under Rule (1) shall be communicated immediately to the President or the Vice-President of the Municipality or to some member of the Municipal Committee specially appointed by the District Magistrate to receive reports under these rules.

(3) Every Municipal Commissioner in charge of a ward or any local area, every Muhalladár, and every servant of the Municipal Committee not being an enrolled Police Officer, shall report, to the President or the Vice-President or the member of the Municipality specially appointed by the District Magistrate to receive reports under these rules, the occurrence of all cases of, and deaths from, plague or of excessive mortality among rats coming to his knowledge; and the President, Vice-President or member shall give immediate information of such report to the Health Officer or the Medical Officer in charge of plague operations in the Municipality if there is one. After plague has established itself in the Municipality, the President, Vice-President or member may direct the discontinuance of reports under this rule.

(4) The Health Officer or Medical Officer on receiving a report under Rule (1) or Rule (3), or where there is no Health Officer or Medical Officer the President, Vice-President or member on receiving a report under Rule (2) or Rule (3), shall send on immediate information of it to the District Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon of the district: after plague has established itself in the Municipality, no such information shall be sent on to the District Magistrate if he directs that it need not be sent, and such information may be sent to the Civil Surgeon, if he so directs, periodically instead of immediately.

D.—Of Inoculated Persons.

The person responsible for and making the report of any case of or death from plague shall also report whether the person attacked or deceased had been inoculated or not, and, if inoculated, how long before his attack or death.

Report by local officers of plague outbreak to higher authority.

XVI.—As soon as plague occurs in any tahsíl or important place, whether the case or cases be indigenous or imported, the District Magistrate shall at once report the fact by telegram to the Commissioner of the Division, as well as to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department, and to the Judicial and General Secretary to the Government of the Punjab. The Civil Surgeon shall make a like report by telegram to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals.

The head-quarters of a district or tahsíl, a cantonment, and places, such as Kálka and important Railway junctions, in which it is desirable that the progress of plague should be kept under special observation, shall be considered important places.

WARNING TO BE PUBLISHED ON THE OUTBREAK OF PLAGUE IN ANY PLACE.

Publication of warning on outbreak of plague in towns or villages.

XVII.—The Lieutenant-Governor will now proceed to consider the practical measures that may be taken against plague as soon as it is known that infection has been introduced into any place. The measures appropriate to towns and villages are generally different, and His Honour will deal separately with towns and with villages except in respect of inoculation and of one of the first measures which should be taken on the outbreak of plague. The measure referred to, which is identical both for towns and villages, is that the local authorities should publish as widely as possible in the neighbourhood of an infected place the fact that it is infected and should warn all concerned of the danger of infection incurred in visiting that place. The Lieutenant-Governor desires District Officers to give special attention to this matter, for it is important that Government should provide the people with as accurate information as possible of the existence of plague in order to give them every opportunity of adopting precautionary measures if they are disposed to do so.

MEASURES IN VILLAGES.

Villages: compulsion not to be resorted to.

XVIII.—The measures which can usefully be adopted in villages directly upon their infection are the isolation of patients, their removal to hospital, their medical treatment, the segregation of contacts, evacuation, disinfection, and inoculation. But no compulsion may be employed to secure the adoption of any of these measures in villages except in the case of evacuation, and then only, as explained in paragraph XXII below, on the initiative of the people themselves.

Villages: isolation, medical treatment, and segregation.

XIX.—The people may, and indeed should, be advised to isolate their patients and have them medically treated and to segregate contacts, but they should ordinarily be left to make their own arrangements for these measures: His Honour need hardly remark that, if any plague patient desires medical treatment, Medical Officers should use their best endeavours to provide it. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor impossible on the ground of expense for Government or Local Bodies to make general provision for hutting or other facilities for patients or contacts in villages. Moreover, if the people themselves desire that isolation or segregation should be resorted to, they can, at the expense of individuals or at the expense of the village Malba Fund, make their own arrangements for such isolation or segregation outside the villages. In the case of poor people, village menials, or strangers, the Lambardárs of the village will, as a rule, be able to make satisfactory arrangements, and the cost of such arrangements can be met out of the Malba Fund: the Lieutenant-Governor, however, is pleased to permit the District Magistrate in very exceptional cases at his discretion to recoup to the Malba Fund such expenditure when incurred.

Villages: evacuation.

XX.—When a place is infected the most important and beneficial measure that can be adopted for the checking of the outbreak is effective evacuation, and while the compulsory evacuation of villages is not a practicable measure and may not be attempted, the Lieutenant-Governor has the greatest confidence that the general voluntary evacuation of villages is practicable. He desires that the people should be encouraged and advised as much as possible to resort to evacuation, and their attention should be particularly drawn to the circumstance that nature generally gives a distinct warning to evacuate before an outbreak becomes severe. If only the warning is observed and acted on, past experience shows that the outbreak may be averted or kept within very restricted limits. The warning is conveyed in the occurrence of unusual mortality among rats. The influence of these animals in spreading plague within infected places has been clearly proved, and it has also been clearly proved that, except in villages infected with pneumonic plague, unusual rat mortality occurs before an outbreak among men, or if not before the first human case of plague, then at least before the infection of human beings becomes at all general. A golden rule for every village to follow is to evacuate, and evacuate thoroughly, as soon as any unusual mortality among rats is observed or the first cases occur among human beings.

Villages: obstacles to evacuation.

XXI.—Evacuation, however, to be really effective must be total, and His Honour is fully aware of the many obstacles which stand in the way of the due adoption of the measure. But he is confident that the people can be trusted to overcome these obstacles for themselves. Some of them are due to climatic causes, and Government can do nothing effectual to alleviate them throughout the whole of the extensive area which is now plague infected. Others are due to religious and social prejudices and misconceptions; these are being removed by the people themselves, and for their complete removal His Honour confidently looks for the continued assistance of the leaders of the people. One of the most serious obstacles is the fear that property left in evacuated places will be stolen, and the statistics of crime show that evacuation is not uncommonly made an opportunity for plunder. In this connexion, as His Honour has pointed out elsewhere, it is the duty of Magistrates to make severe examples of persons convicted of offences against property in evacuated places; but the people should protect themselves by taking with them, in evacuating, as much of their property as possible (being careful to subject articles which may be infected to some process of disinfection, such as disinfection by chemicals or boiling or exposure to sunlight and air), and they should at the same time appoint a number of extra Chaukídárs—not less than one for every 50 houses in the village—to guard against theft and also to prevent communication with the village till it becomes safe for re-occupation, any remuneration made to such Chaukídárs being arranged for by the villagers themselves. The last obstacle to evacuation which need be noticed here—a very serious one in many villages—is the opposition of a small minority of the people which refuses to move. This minority opposes evacuation by working upon the religious and social feelings of their fellow-villagers, and even if it fails to effect its object in this way it usually prevents evacuation because the majority suspects that the minority will take advantage of the vacation of their houses to pilfer them. Moreover, as long as any persons stay in the village, connexion with it cannot be completely cut off and the full benefit of evacuation is not gained.

Villages: compulsory evacuation of minority.

XXII.—The Lieutenant-Governor has felt that we must strengthen the hands of those sensible people who appreciate the advantages of evacuation and desire to adopt the measure, but are prevented from doing so by a small minority of less sensible people. He has therefore been pleased to sanction the following rule having the force of law, which is now confirmed, viz.:—

If the District Magistrate is satisfied, on petition made to him by any inhabitant or inhabitants of a village and after full local enquiry, that all but an inconspicuous minority of the inhabitants of a village boná fide desire that the village should be totally evacuated, he may by an order in writing, posted in convenient places in the village, and proclaimed there by beat of drum or in any such other manner as may seem to him to be appropriate or necessary, direct all the inhabitants to vacate their houses within a time to be fixed in the order and shall inform them that in case of disobedience they will be liable to the penalty provided by Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code. Any person disobeying such order may be prosecuted on the complaint of a Lambardár or of any other representative inhabitant.

Punjab Government Circular letter No. 19—1429 L.-P., dated the 1st October 1902.

In applying this rule the District Magistrate must satisfy himself of the general feeling of the people by a local inquiry, made by himself or by some authorised and competent subordinate. It is not intended that the measures adopted in any case should go further than is approved by the general feeling of the people concerned, and the rule must not be worked so as to result in compulsory evacuation without regard to local public opinion. Moreover, the power of ordering a minority to vacate a place is not to be exercised in the case of villages approaching the status of towns (in the ordinary sense of the word) or during such cold or rainy weather as would render evacuation an undue hardship and unless hutting materials are available or are provided for those who object to vacate their houses. Hutting materials provided under this rule or otherwise should be paid for by the villagers, and the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that they should not in future be paid for by Government or Local Bodies unless in exceptional cases and with the special previous sanction of the Commissioner.

MEASURES IN MUNICIPAL TOWNS.

Towns: compulsory removal of plague patients.

XXVII.—Isolation, segregation and removal to a Plague Hospital or Camp are not measures of general application in towns. But in towns some power of compulsory removal must be reserved for exceptional cases. All such cases are sufficiently provided for by the following rules having the force of law which have been issued by the Lieutenant-Governor under Act III of 1897. His Honour desires that the limits of compulsion laid down in the rules should be carefully observed :—

(1) If any friendless or unattended person who is believed to be suffering from plague is found in any public place he may be removed under the order of a Magistrate, and under arrangements to be made by the Municipal authorities, to a suitable place which the Municipality shall provide for voluntary isolation or for compulsory isolation under these rules.

(2) If a person who is believed to be suffering from plague has, though attended, no home and he and his friends are unable to provide accommodation for him, he may be removed as under Rule (1).

(3) If a case of plague occurs in a serái or other place used for the accommodation of travellers, the plague patient may be removed as under Rule (1) by a special order of the District Magistrate issued in exercise of his discretion. In passing an order under this rule the District Magistrate shall have regard to the feelings of the inhabitants of the neighbourhood and to the degree in which the removal is likely to be efficacious in protecting the town from an outbreak. When a case of plague has occurred in a serái or other such place as aforesaid, and the plague patient has not been removed under this rule, the proprietor or lessee, and the person who for the time being is in charge of the serái or other such place, shall be responsible for affixing a notice and a distinguishing mark in a conspicuous place at the entrance of the serái or place for the purpose of intimating to travellers that the place has been infected. This notice and mark shall be retained until the District Magistrate permits their removal. During any absence from the district head-quarters or for any other special temporary reason the District Magistrate may delegate to any Magistrate his powers under this rule, and in the case of a Municipal town not situated at the head-quarters of a district the power given under this rule to the District Magistrate may, in his absence from such Municipal town, be exercised by the Sub-Divisional Officer or the Tahsíldár.

(4) If a person suffering from plague is left unattended in a private house, and if after notice given under arrangements to be made by the Municipal authorities no one is forthcoming to look after him, the District Magistrate may authorize his removal to a place of isolation as in Rule (1). The District Magistrate's powers under this rule may be delegated by him, or exercised by the Sub-Divisional Officer or Tahsíldár, as under Rule (3).

(5) No person may be compulsorily removed to a place of isolation except under Rules (1) to (4), and except under Rules (1) and (2) no moribund person may be so removed.

Towns: medical treatment.

XXVIII.—With regard to the medical treatment of plague patients in Municipal towns, His Honour thinks it will be sufficient to direct that those who, either themselves or through their relatives or friends, voluntarily require such treatment in towns should ordinarily be treated in a special part of the Infectious Diseases Hospital set apart for the purpose or in such special place as may have been provided for isolation. If treatment is desired for any person in his own house the Medical Officer should, if possible, arrange for his treatment there.

Towns: evacuation.

XXIX.—The policy of general evacuation in towns is so difficult to apply that it is not a practical policy. The number of interests involved, the interruption of trade, the difficulty of removing property from houses and preventing thefts, are among the reasons which prevent the total evacuation of towns. The evacuation, however, of particular quarters which are specially infected should be encouraged, as well as of houses or rooms in which plague has occurred or rats have died, which should, if possible, be vacated at least until they have been disinfected. In case quarters or houses in towns are evacuated the people may be prevented from moving simply to an uninfected quarter or street in the town and establishing a new centre of infection there by the power (referred to in paragraph XXXV C below) of ordering them to move on which the District Magistrate will have on the complaint of the residents of the neighbourhood to which they move.

In case the inhabitants of a town or an infected quarter of a town or infected houses or rooms desire to evacuate, the Municipal authorities shall be responsible for providing them with facilities such as encamping sites, and, in the special case of those who have no sufficient means to provide accommodation for themselves, the Municipal authorities shall provide them with accommodation.

Towns: chemical disinfection.

XXX.—At no stage of the epidemic may compulsion be used in towns for disinfection by chemicals or desiccation. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, desires that every effort should be made to induce people in towns to avail themselves of chemical disinfection. In particular endeavour should be made immediately on the report of plague in any house to secure the chemical disinfection of that house. It is advisable to disinfect all the rooms of any house that is infected, but if this is impracticable only particular rooms may be disinfected. The chemical disinfection here in question is that done by official agency with perchloride of mercury in a green solution, though, as in the case of villages, the colour, if objected to, may be dispensed with under conditions of supervision that will ensure thorough work. The Medical Officer in charge of plague operations in towns should not wait for applications from the occupants of plague-infected houses, but should invariably arrange to have all appliances sent to the houses in question and should try to induce the owners or occupiers to agree to disinfection. Before the disinfection of a house any corpse should be removed, but the removal of plague patients need not be insisted on: upon the removal, recovery or death of a patient the room occupied by him and the property in it should be disinfected again. If the owners or occupiers of houses do not agree to accept it, disinfection should not be pressed upon them. The Lieutenant-Governor desires officers to impress on all inhabitants of towns—and especially on the members and officials of Municipal Committees—the great importance of promptly reporting cases to the Medical authorities with the object of disinfecting effectively and without delay every house which becomes infected, and His Honour trusts that the leaders of the people will do all in their power to secure the fullest possible use being made of the facilities provided for chemical disinfection by official agency.

Where agreed to or applied for in towns chemical disinfection by official agency should be given free of charge—

(i) provided that in every case of such free chemical disinfection the person to whom it is afforded takes action in order to have clothes and belongings disinfected by some effectual method to the satisfaction of the Medical Officer; articles destroyed as incapable of disinfection may be paid for under arrangements to be made by the Municipality; in towns where steam disinfectors are available the people should be especially encouraged to make use of them,

(ii) and provided also that the house to be disinfected is one in which unusual mortality among rats or a case of plague has occurred, or which is in the immediate neighbourhood of such a house.

When disinfection is applied for by the owner of a house in which unusual mortality among rats or a plague case has not occurred and which is not in the immediate neighbourhood of such a house chemical disinfection by official agency should not be done unless the applicant pays for it or the Medical Officer in charge of plague operations in the town decides that there is some special reason for giving it free. Where payment is required, it shall be made in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed by the Municipal Committee, and shall consist of a charge of eight annas for every room disinfected, plus a charge on account of coolies (whether they belong to a permanent disinfecting gang or are specially engaged for the work), ordinarily at five annas per man per diem, unless the person for whom disinfection is done makes his own arrangements to supply and pay the coolies required.

Towns: sale of disinfecting solution to the people for application by themselves.

XXXI.—In towns, as in villages, people should be encouraged to buy and apply for themselves the disinfecting solution supplied by the Disinfection Depôt at Jullundur. The Municipal Committee should arrange to have the solution bottled and labelled and to keep a stock of it and sell it, and the District Plague Medical Officer should satisfy himself that this is being done. The people should also be advised to open up the ventilation of their houses when possible and to disinfect clothes and grain by exposure to sunlight and air and when desiccation with stoves of the approved pattern is not used to burn fires in their rooms. In towns, as in villages, the use of the approved desiccators should be freely encouraged, and His Honour desires every Municipal Committee to provide such number of desiccators as the District Plague Medical Officer may from time to time consider desirable, both in anticipation of an outbreak and after an outbreak has occurred. Such desiccators should be available for use by all who apply for them provided that the users pay for all expenditure, including conveyance and transport, and are responsible for the return of the machines in good order. They may also be sold by the Municipal Committee to persons desiring to purchase them. In Municipal towns it will not be necessary to maintain a staff of men to give instruction in the use of desiccators.

Towns: desiccation.

Towns: inoculation.

XXXII.—The provision of facilities for inoculation, for which similar arrangements will be made both in towns and villages, is dealt with in the next paragraph of these orders.

INOCULATION.

Inoculation arrangements.

XXXIII.—Government has done all in its power to bring the advantages of inoculation prominently to the notice of the people, and all that can be done now is to afford the greatest possible facilities for the inoculation of such persons as may desire of themselves to be inoculated. The operation must invariably be performed by a Medical Officer, but under existing circumstances the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that all Medical Officers with qualifications of or above those of a Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery may be entrusted with the duty of inoculation. Therefore all such officers in the Medical Department of the Punjab Government should, under the orders of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, be supplied with instructions regarding the process and should be provided with a stock of the necessary fluid appliances and registers. When this has been done the people will have facilities for becoming inoculated at the head-quarters of every district and at every dispensary where an Assistant Surgeon holds charge. Facilities should also be afforded at other dispensaries where there is such demand for inoculation as to render it advisable to depute a Medical Officer there for inoculation purposes. Inoculating Officers should ordinarily be stationary and not itinerant; but a certain number of Medical Officers will be available to go on tour specially for inoculation work, and where the District Plague Medical Officer is satisfied that the number of persons to be inoculated in any area or their circumstances justify the deputation of a special operator, other than an operator at the dispensary to which the area in question is attached, he may send out a special Medical Officer to inoculate in a special village or set of villages, and if necessary the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals should arrange to assist the District Plague Medical Officer with the services of one or more special officers for the purpose. Special inoculating officers should be freely deputed to places where their services are required, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires the Inspector-General to arrange to obtain the services of qualified Medical Officers to permit of inoculation being extensively performed wherever there is any demand for it. Certificates of inoculation should be given to those who are operated on and should consist of an extract from the inoculation register prescribed in paragraph XXXVII (c) below. Inoculating officers should take such steps as are possible to gain information of any ill-effects supervening on inoculation and should watch all cases in which ill-effects have occurred and report them promptly to their superior officers for the information and orders of Government.

AGENCY AND REQUISITES FOR CHEMICAL DISINFECTION.

Disinfection Depôt.

XXXIV.—The Disinfection Depôt at Jullundur is, His Honour understands, adequately serving the purpose for which it was instituted, and all officers of Government and Local Bodies will continue to obtain from it their requirements in respect of the articles stocked in the Depôt under the orders of Government issued separately in this connexion. His Honour, however, sees no necessity for retaining in connexion with the Depôt special permanent disinfecting gangs with medical subordinates attached to them.

Disinfection mates.

The chemicals required for disinfection by official agency are made up in standard strength at the Depôt and are issued in receptacles of standard capacity, so that on the spot where they are to be used they require only to be mixed in accordance with simple directions and rules which can be easily understood by men who have no scientific knowledge. Moreover the actual work of disinfection can and should be supervised by the District Plague Medical Officer and the Medical Officers serving under him, and Hospital Assistants who are intended principally for this work should be freely employed, under the control of superior officers, for the supervision of disinfection. It will, however, be necessary to have specially qualified mates to carry out disinfecting operations under the supervision of Medical Officers. Such mates should be men who have gone through instruction in the manner of mixing and applying disinfectants and have satisfied the Superintendent of the Depôt or Civil Surgeons of districts of their capability to carry out disinfection operations efficiently, and they should also be educated sufficiently to be able to keep up the registers of work which will be prescribed. Every mate while employed will be paid at the rate of Rs. 10 per mensem and be provided with a pair of shoes and a suit of clothes, which should be recovered from him if necessary. He will be entitled to travelling allowance under the ordinary rules, including Article 1037, Civil Service Regulations. Every Municipal Committee will be expected to maintain such a stock of disinfecting materials and appliances (including disinfectors' clothing) as may be considered necessary by the Civil Surgeon to meet the demands likely to be made for chemical disinfection, and if the work of disinfection is likely to be considerable Municipal Committees should keep up such a permanent staff of properly qualified mates and also of coolies as in the opinion of the District Plague Medical Officer is desirable; the stock and establishment in question should, in places which are imminently threatened, be provided before plague breaks out and in readiness for an outbreak if one should occur. The men entered in the Civil Surgeon's register as qualified to be mates should be sent out by him to any place, whether in the jurisdiction of the District Board or of a Municipal Committee, where their services are required. Each mate will be responsible that the disinfectants supplied to him are properly applied, and he should be assisted by a gang of not more than 10 coolies, who, whether or not there are any permanent gangs, may be supplied by the person for whom disinfection is being done. If the coolies are not provided by a Municipal Committee or by the person at whose request disinfection is being done and remunerated by private agreement with him, the mate should engage them locally, and he should pay their wages ordinarily at the rate of five annas per diem.

Except when sent to a place where the disinfection requisites are already in stock every mate will, on proceeding to any place for disinfection, take with him, in addition to the necessary chemicals and appliances with which the District Plague Medical Officer will provide him, suits of clothes and shoes (which can be obtained from the Depôt) for his own use and that of coolies employed in the work of disinfection, and he will be responsible for seeing that the gangs wear these clothes and shoes instead of their own while they are at work and that they are got back from the gangs after work and properly disinfected.

When a mate or appliances for disinfection are sent to a Municipality the Municipal Committee shall be responsible for all transport charges incurred, as well as for the pay and any travelling allowance due to the mate : when a mate or appliances are sent to a village or non-Municipal town the transport and other charges will be met by the District Plague Medical Officer as a local charge in accordance with the instructions in paragraph XL below.

Every Civil Surgeon should at once open and maintain a register of persons living in his district who are qualified and willing to serve as mates, and if any occasion for disinfection arises he should employ as mates the persons entered on his register. If he is unable to secure locally the services of any men or as many men as are required, he may obtain them from the Disinfection Depôt. To meet such demands made upon the Depôt the Superintendent shall maintain a staff of not more than ten qualified mates, who should be required to bind themselves down to go wherever ordered, to the retention in hand of half a month's pay as a guarantee, and to give a month's notice before leaving their employment. Whenever a mate is sent out from the Depôt on the application of a Civil Surgeon another man shall be entertained in order to keep the staff up to the full strength fixed from time to time and whenever a mate who has been sent out to a district returns to the Depôt the services of one shall be dispensed with.

In every district, whether infected or not, a reasonable quantity of chemicals for disinfection and three sets of disinfecting appliances and gang clothing shall be kept ready by the Civil Surgeon in addition to any stocks maintained by Municipalities. As occasion demands, further supplies should be obtained from the Depôt. Municipalities should in case of emergency be supplied from the Civil Surgeon's stock, recovery of the cost being made by the Civil Surgeon, but Municipalities should ordinarily obtain their supplies from the Depôt.

SPECIAL MEASURES.

Measures for restriction of movements of the people generally inadvisable.

XXXV.—Except as stated in this paragraph below, and except with reference to the punch-marking system with regard to which orders will issue later, His Honour has now been pleased definitely to cancel all rules and orders permitting all such general or extended restriction of the movements of the people as have heretofore been permitted with a view to check the spread of infection by human intercourse from infected to uninfected villages or towns. For the future there will be no prohibition of railway booking to infected areas in the Punjab and no interference with the travelling of persons by road; railway and road medical inspections will not be resorted to under ordinary circumstances in the plains; and the people will, except in very special cases, be allowed to move about freely in connexion with fairs, marriages, and social gatherings. The only measures of general application to infected and uninfected places which may be adopted are the following within the limits laid down for each:—

Regulation of the gathering of people at fairs.

Fairs.

A.—The only method by which persons from infected areas can be prevented from communicating at fairs with persons from uninfected areas and vice versâ is by stopping the fairs Therefore if any interference with a fair is called for, it should ordinarily take the form of the prohibition of the fair. But no fair should be prohibited unless a clear case can be made out to show that the advantages of stopping it distinctly outweigh the disadvantages of allowing it to be held. In the case of the more important fairs of the Province (noted in the margin) the Lieutenant-Governor will consider such recommendations as may be submitted by Commissioners and he will himself pass any orders that may be necessary for stoppage or for the taking of special measures. In all other cases His Honour leaves it to the Commissioner to decide whether a fair is to be stopped or not and to issue the necessary orders. In case a fair is allowed to be held in an infected place and a considerable number of people from uninfected places are likely to visit it, the Deputy Commissioner shall widely publish a notice that the locality is infected and that persons who attend the fair do so at their own risk.

1. All horse and cattle show fairs.
2. The Sun Eclipse Fairs, Thánesar, Karnál.
3. The Naurátra Fair, Jawálamukhi, Kángra.
4. The Bhadar Káli Fair, Niáz Beg, Lahore.
5. The Chirághan Fair, Shálámár, Lahore.
6. The Amáwas Fairs, Tarn Táran, Amritsar.
7. The Sakhi Sarwar Fair, Dera Gházi Khan
8. The Bába Faríd Fair, Pákpattan, Montgomery.

Right of uninfected villages to refuse access to persons coming from infected places.

Right of uninfected villages to refuse access to persons coming from infected places.

B.—His Honour thinks that it is desirable to maintain the existing rule known as Rule 33, whereby inhabitants of villages are authorized to refuse access to their villages in the case of any person coming from an area declared in the Punjab Gazette to be plague infected until such person has spent 10 days outside the village and until his clothes and baggage have been thoroughly disinfected in some manner. He considers it also advisable to maintain the rule introduced last year with the object of strengthening the hands of the villagers in excluding persons coming from infected to uninfected places He therefore repeats here Rule 33, which has been republished as Rule (1) in Part IV of Punjab Government Notification No. 1935, dated 16th November 1903, as well as the rule connected with it which was introduced last year and is now re-issued, together with the executive instructions regarding the working of these rules, to which strict attention should be given:—

Originally issued as Rule 33 of Punjab Government Notification No. 1086 of 5th September 1901.

"(1) The inhabitants of villages are authorized to refuse access to their village of any person coming from an area declared in the Punjab Gazette to be an infected area, until such person has spent ten days outside the village, and until his clothes and baggage have been thoroughly disinfected in some manner.

"(2) If the inhabitants of a village acting in acordance with the provisions of Rule (1) of this part have endeavoured to refuse access to their village to any person, and such person has nevertheless entered the village, the District Magistrate may, on the complaint or petition of a Lambardár or of any other representative inhabitant, made not more than ten days after his entry, direct such person by an order in writing to remove himself from the village within a time to be fixed in the order and inform him that in case of disobedience he will be liable to the penalty provided in Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code, and any person disobeying such order may be prosecuted on the complaint of a Lambardár or of any other representative inhabitant of the village.

"Deputy Commissioners should make this rule widely known by proclamation, and should also let it be known that Chaukídárs for the purpose of enforcing Rule 33 should be entertained and paid for out of the Malba Fund, if the majority of the villagers desires this to be done. It is, however, to be borne in mind that the action taken under these rules should in no case go further than is approved by the general feeling of the people concerned, and the rules must not be worked so as to result in proceedings against any person without regard to local public opinion. It has been suggested that Rule 33 should be extended to small towns and minor Municipalities, but it is to be distinctly understood that no system of quarantine can be sanctioned for any town or other area which is unable to enforce the measure mainly by the voluntary agency of its own inhabitants and is compelled to depend mainly upon a paid agency. In case, however, Notified Areas and minor Municipalities are practically nothing more than large villages and can enforce Rule 33 in the same way as ordinary village communities, the Lieutenant-Governor has no objection to the rule being applied to them with the previous sanction of the Commissioner."

Punjab Government Circular letter No. 19—1429 L. P., dated the 1st October 1902.

Special powers of self-protection against persons from infected places given to inhabitants of uninfected towns and quarters.

C.—His Honour also confirms the rule issued last year for towns similar to that just quoted for villages. The following passages from the Plague Manual of 1902 state the rule and the principles on which it should be acted upon:—

Special powers of self-protection against persons from infected places given to inhabitants of uninfected towns and quarters.

"To give individuals an object in keeping a watch on persons who come to their neighbourhood from infected places and to give them an effective means of objecting to the introduction of danger into their midst and of protecting themselves, the Lieutenant Governor has made the following rule under the Epidemic Diseases Act, viz :—

"When any person who has recently been in an area which has been declared by the Local Government to be a plague-infected area, within ten days of leaving such an area, takes up his abode, either temporarily or permanently, in a street or quarter of a town which is not infected with plague, the District Magistrate, on receipt of the complaint or petition of any five or more adult inhabitants of such street or quarter presented within ten days of the arrival therein of the person whose presence is complained of, may, provided he is satisfied that their action is bonâ fide and represents the general opinion of the inhabitants of such street or quarter, issue an order in writing to such person to remove himself forthwith from such street or quarter to some other place where his presence will not be objected to, and shall inform him that in case of disobedience he will be liable to the penalty provided by Section 188 of the Indian Penal Code. If such order is not obeyed the person to whom it is issued may be prosecuted on the complaint of any one of the inhabitants on whose initiative the said order was issued.

"It is not intended that the powers given by this rule should be resorted to when they are regarded with disfavour by the people, nor that the measures adopted in any case should go further than is approved by the general feeling of the people concerned. Thus, it is not intended that any five persons should be able to secure the removal of an individual unless they really represent local public opinion. The rule must not be worked so as to result in compulsory removal without regard to that opinion."

Punjab Government Circular letter No. 19—1429 L.-P., dated the 1st October 1902.

MEASURES FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF RATS.

XXXVI.—His Honour observes that the feeling of the country appears to be opposed to measures intended for the wholesale destruction of rats. Such measures offend the religious susceptibilities of many of the people, and without the people's co-operation money spent on them is practically wasted. No really effective measure for the general destruction of rats has yet been devised. For these reasons the Lieutenant-Governor, while he trusts that the question of destroying rats will not be forgotten and that attention will be given to educating the people to a sense of its importance, desires that no considerable expense should at present be incurred either by Government or by Local Bodies on measures intended for the general destruction of rats.

Measures against rats.

STATISTICAL INFORMATION AND PERIODICAL REPORTS.

XXXVII.—The following orders relate to the supply to Government and the publication of statistical information and the submission of periodical reports regarding plague :—

Statistical returns of plague cases and deaths.

(a) (1) From the reports received under Rules B (3) and C (4) of Punjab Government Notification No 1935 L.-P.. dated 16th November 1903, (see paragraph XV of this Resolution) each District Plague Medical Officer shall compile for his district, in forms to be prescribed by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, a weekly statistical return of reported plague cases and deaths as well a sa statistical return of reported cases and deaths for each calendar month.

(2) Immediately after the weekly return just referred to has been compiled, each District Plague Medical Officer shall inform the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals by telegram of the district totals of reported cases and deaths in each week and he shall be responsible that the telegram is despatched in time to reach the office of the Inspector-General not later than the morning of the Tuesday following the week to which the figures relate.

(3) After despatching the telegram referred to in the preceding section of this paragraph, each District Plague Medical Officer shall prepare a statement showing the total number of deaths reported in the district during the week with details of the number reported in each Municipal town of the district, and he shall forward the statement to the Sanitary Commissioner.

(4) The figures for plague deaths received by him under the instructions in the preceding section of this paragraph shall be incorporated by the Sanitary Commissioner in the weekly mortality statement for the Province published by him in the Punjab Gazette. This statement will provide all the statistical information regarding plague that need be published in the Gazette

(5) After the telegram and statement prescribed in sections (3) and (4) of this paragraph have been despatched, each District Plague Medical Officer shall prepare a statement showing the reported number of plague cases and deaths in each infected tahsíl with details for Municipal towns and the district total, and he shall without delay send this statement to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, who from all the district statements received by him will compile a Provincial Statement and forward it every week, as early as possible, to the Judicial and General Secretary for the information of the Punjab Government.

(6) Immediately after the end of each calendar month each District Plague Medical Officer shall compile and forward to the Inspector-General a statement showing the number of plague cases and deaths reported during the month in each tahsil with details for Municipal towns and the district total.

Weekly Gazette notification of infected areas.

(b) A weekly statement of infected areas will continue to be published in the Punjab Gazette, and this should be prepared by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals from the statistics of cases and deaths supplied to him every week by District Plague Medical Officers. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals shall forward the statement after preparation without delay to Government for publication.

Inoculation registers and returns.

(c) Each Medical Officer who performs any inoculations shall maintain a register of them in the form appended, and every Saturday evening after the day's work has been done he shall submit to the District Plague Medical Officer an abstract from his register in the form appended, and inoculation returns for the district shall be prepared by the District Plague Medical Officer from the weekly returns submitted by Medical Officers who have performed inoculations. District returns of the number of inoculated persons who have been attacked by and died of plague shall also be compiled every week by the District Plague Medical Officer from the Chaukídárs' and Municipal mortality reports, with which shall be forwarded to the District Plague Medical Officer the information regarding inoculation that must, under the rule in force, be reported with the report of every case of or death from plague. District Plague Medical Officers shall also submit returns by calendar months showing the number of persons inoculated in each district and the number of inoculated persons who have been attached by or have died of plague. The forms for district returns will be prescribed by the Inspector-General and the returns should be submitted as early as possible to the Inspector-General for his information and for the submission to Government of Provincial returns to be compiled in the Inspector-General's Office.

Disinfection registers and returns.

(d) District Plague Medical Officers shall, under the orders of the Inspector-General, arrange for the collection of the statistics required for the preparation of the weekly district disinfection return, in the form appended, in which statistics for the week ending on Saturday should be submitted to the Inspector-General.

District Magistrates should see returns.

(e) Neither the inoculation nor the disinfection returns are required by Commissioners, nor is their periodical publication for general information necessary; but District Magistrates should see the returns and especially in consideration of the fact that all District Board plague expenditure will in the first place be treated as provincial, it is desirable that District Magistrates should keep a close watch over the returns of disinfection, which has hitherto involved the heaviest expenditure on plague measures.

Accounts forms and stock registers.

(f) Forms for accounts and stock registers may be prescribed by the Inspector-General after consultation with the Accountant-General.

Prohibition of statistical returns not prescribed by Government.

(g) Without the sanction of Government, officers may not be required to submit any detailed statistical information except that which is set forth in the two prescribed forms of return appended to this Resolution or which may be prescribed by the Inspector-General in accordance with the instructions in this paragraph, and any forms prescribed by the Inspector-General shall be submitted to Government before being brought into use.

Weekly plague diary.

(h) The District Plague Medical Officer shall submit a weekly diary for the information of higher authorities. This diary should be concise and contain no figured statements, but it should contain notes on the general progress of plague, the measures adopted for dealing with the disease—particularly chemical disinfection, desiccation, and inoculation—the attitude of the people towards those measures, the progress made in securing their acceptance, and the expenditure incurred or proposed otherwise than in connexion with the pay of sanctioned establishments. The District Plague Medical Officer should also note information as to attacks and mortality from plague among inoculated persons in as complete and accurate a form as circumstances permit. The diary should be closed on Saturday, and on Monday it should be submitted to the District Magistrate, who shall make such remarks on it as he considers necessary and then forward it without delay to the Commissioner, who shall forward it as soon as possible with his remarks for the information of the Inspector-General and of Government. The form of the diary and the heads under which the information contained in it will be given will be prescribed by the Inspector-General.

Monthly plague report to Government of India.

(i) The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals shall submit by the 11th of each month to the Judicial and General Secretary to the Punjab Government a report on the state of plague in the previous month. This report must be forwarded by the Punjab Government so as to reach the Government of India by the 13th of each month.

Annual plague report.

(j) An annual report on plague shall be written for the calendar year by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and be sent by him to the Sanitary Commissioner at latest by the 15th April in the year after that to which it relates. The report will be incorporated by the Sanitary Commissioner in his Annual Report for the Province, and the information collected on the subject of plague attacks and mortality among inoculated persons should be specially noted in it.

(k) The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals shall from time to time and without delay report to the Judicial and General Secretary for the information of Government all postings and transfers of Medical Officers of or above the grade of Assistant Surgeon made by him in connexion with the administration of plague measures, and at the beginning of every month he shall submit a distribution list giving by districts the names of all Medical Officers on plague duty in the Province and showing generally how each is employed, and giving also the numbers of clerks and chaprásís employed in each district under paragraphs VIII and IX of this Resolution and the periods for which they were employed during the month.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS.

Financial arrangements.

XXXVIII.—The financial arrangements at present in force for meeting plague charges are, in His Honour's opinion, unsatisfactory. There is no proper budget check, while District Boards are expected to meet heavy plague expenditure irrespective of the state of their finances and their requirements in other directions. It is true that the Punjab Government has recouped to District Boards the amounts by which their balances have been exceeded on account of plague expenditure, but the effect of this on the management of their general expenditure has not been properly understood. An unsatisfactory feature of the existing system is that, in some districts, it has unduly restricted expenditure on Public Works, and while affirming the principle that District Boards are responsible for plague expenditure within reasonable limits, His Honour is of opinion that Public Works in infected districts are now being so starved that the consequences cannot fail to be serious. District Boards should be required and permitted not only to maintain their existing Public Works, but also to spend a reasonable amount on new and original works.

Classification of plague expenditure incurred in areas under the jurisdiction of District Boards and in Notified Areas.

XXXIX.—In consideration of the plague measures which will now be adopted and the degree of responsibility in regard to them which rests respectively on the Provincial Government and District Boards, His Honour is pleased to order that in future all direct plague expenditure should be classified as (a) Provincial or (b) Local, as follows :—

Provincial Plague expenditure should be met from Provincial funds and should include—

(a) all expenditure on Medical and other Officers and their establishments engaged specially in the administration of plague measures, as well as the staff of not more than ten disinfection mates to be maintained at the Disinfection Depôt at Jullundur, but excluding all non-medical establishment engaged solely for disinfection purposes and the like;

(b) all expenditure on inoculation operations, including the price of fluid and appliances, the cost of their transport, and other incidental expenses;

(c) all expenditure on regular plague inspection posts established by the Local Government on roads or railways, and all expenditure on pilgrim camps;

(d) any other expenditure accepted by Government as Provincial for special reasons such as the cost and carriage of steam disinfectors;

Local plague expenditure should include expenditure on—

(a) local precautionary measures, including measures for the disposal of corpses and for the destruction of rats;

(b) all disinfection charges except those mentioned under Provincial above.

Method of dealing with the local plague expenditure of District Boards.

XL.—In the case of District Boards, their financial position will be reviewed by Government when their budgets are prepared: the probable Provincial and Local plague expenditure in their jurisdictions will be separately estimated; and after provision has been made for reasonable expenditure under the heads of Medical, Educational, Public Works, Establishments, &c., it will be determined whether each District Board can bear the whole of its estimated local plague expenditure or only a part of it. The amount, if any, by which such charges exceed the part of them which the District Board can bear will be borne by Government. In consideration of this and in order to secure proper checks upon such expenditure, all local plague expenditure will be disbursed and audited in the same way as if it were Provincial. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals will be the controlling officer for all plague expenditure and will from the total plague grant distribute to districts the amounts required by them, and will countersign travelling allowance and contingent bills. The amount to be borne by District Boards will be subject to readjustment, if necessary, after the close of the year, upon a review of the accounts as finally made up.

Detailed orders on the above lines have been issued separately.

The plague expenditure of Municipal Committees.

XLI.—The financial arrangements prescribed for District Boards will not apply to plague expenditure incurred in Municipalities. All plague expenditure incurred within a Municipality shall ordinarily be held to be Local and not Provincial, unless any particular part of it is clearly shown to have been incurred as part of a scheme for the protection of the Province at large under the express direction of the Local Government. Ordinarily a Municipality should bear all local plague expenditure without assistance from general revenues, and if any temporary assistance is required in any case, it should take the form of loans under the Local Authorities Emergency Loans Act, XII of 1897.

The Deputy Commissioner will be responsible for seeing that a reference is made to Government as soon as a Municipal Committee finds that it will probably require assistance, and he will be responsible particularly for seeing that necessary plague measures are not postponed on account of financial difficulties.

REWARDS FOR SERVICES PERFORMED IN CONNEXION WITH PLAGUE MEASURES.

Rewards for plague services.

XLII.—In concluding these orders and instructions regarding plague measures the Lieutenant-Governor desires to record his agreement with the Committee which recently considered the subject, that "rewards should be given more freely than in the past to persons who have done good service in promoting and carrying out plague measures Enough has not hitherto been done in the way of giving rewards, and it is very necessary to reward as promptly as possible persons who have done exceptionally good services." His Honour is prepared to make an annual allotment not exceeding Rs. 2,000 for this purpose to each Commissioner of a Division, and he accepts the recommendations of the Committee that the persons to be rewarded may be selected from among subordinate officials, including medical subordinates, as well as from among non-officials, and that Commissioners may be left to make the selection of the persons to be awarded and decide on the amount to be given to each, provided that no individual reward should ordinarily exceed Rs. 30 and that no official in receipt of a monthly salary of Rs. 250 or over be eligible for any such reward. The success of such plague measures as are now practicable in the Punjab depends entirely on the co-operation of the people, and His Honour believes that the hope of recognition and reward will be some inducement to those who are willing to assist the Government, especially in view of the fact that the measures now prescribed have been adopted with the express intention of reducing to an absolute minimum the employment of the compulsory methods of plague administration which have in the past aroused the opposition of the people.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of the foregoing Resolution be forwarded to all Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners in the Punjab, the Accountant-General, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, the Sanitary Commissioner, and all Civil Surgeons in the Punjab for information and guidance, to the Manager, North-Western Railway, and the Agents, East Indian Railway and Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway, for information with reference to paragraphs XV A (2) and XXXV, and to the Senior Secretary to the Financial Commissioner, Punjab, for the information of the Financial Commissioner, with reference to paragraph XII.

Ordered also, that the Resolution be published in the Punjab Gazette and be communicated to the Government of India, Home Department.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor,

C. J. HALLIFAX,

Judicial and Genl. Secy. to Govt., Punjab.

No. 351.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Section 31 of the Punjab Military Transport Animals Act, I of 1903, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules under the Act and to order their publication for general information :—

I.—In these rules and in the forms and appendices annexed to these rules all references—

(i) to the Act and to sections are references to the Punjab Military Transport Animals Act, I of 1903, and to the sections thereof;

(ii) to animals are to animals as defined in Section 2, but they shall so far as they may, apply also to vehicles, gear and equipment;

(iii) to a Committee or the Committee are references to a Committee constituted as directed by the Local Government under Section 14 (1).

II.—Any power conferred by these rules on a Tahsíldár may be exercised by any Revenue Officer of higher rank, or by any other person specially empowered in this behalf by the Collector.

III.—The Collector of each district shall divide the district into Transport sub-circles for the purposes of the administration of the Act in accordance with these rules; and for each Transport sub-circle he shall appoint a Registration Assistant (Halqadár Bárbardári), who shall be responsible for the duties imposed upon Registration Assistants by these rules.

IV.—The Collector of each district shall in consultation with the Transport Registration Officer fix certain places as collecting stations and assign the villages, Transport sub-circles, or other areas, of his district to such collecting stations in such manner as may be most convenient, so that in any notice issued under the Act or these rules any person bound to produce any animal shall ordinarily be called upon to produce it at the collecting station to which is assigned the place in which he resides.

V.—For the purposes of enumerating, registering or taking steps for the acquisition or impressment of any animal under the Act and these rules any Transport Registration Officer or Tahsíldár or Registration Assistant may ask of all persons within the limits of the local area for which he is appointed any question regarding the number, description, character, whereabouts, ownership, possession, purposes of use, and value, of any animal vehicle, gear or equipment, and regarding any disease of any animal.

VI.—The Collector shall from time to time, as may be necessary, determine the total number of animals, including branded, token and ordinary animals, as defined in the next rule, which shall be registered in each Transport sub-circle as an aid to the selection of animals for acquisition or impressment.

VII.—(i) At the time of its registration a note shall be made regarding each animal as to whether it is a branded, a token, or an ordinary, animal.

(ii) A branded animal is one branded in accordance with the provisions of the Act relating to branding.

(iii) A token animal is one regarding which an agreement in writing, executed by the Transport Registration Officer and the owner and evidenced by a token granted to the owner in respect of the animal, exists between the owner and the Government whereby, for the consideration and upon the conditions specified in the agreement as to hire or purchase of the animal, its ordinary liability to impressment is limited as provided in these rules and whereby it is allotted to some particular unit or corps on the mobilization of which the owner undertakes to produce it for hire or purchase by Government.

(iv) An ordinary animal is one that is not a branded or a token animal.

VIII.—(i) When any person desires to have an animal branded he shall first produce it before the Registration Assistant of the Transport sub-circle in which he resides. (ii) At the end of every quarter the Registration Assistant shall submit to the Tahsíldár a copy of the list referred to in the preceding clause of this rule, and the Tahsildar shall, without delay, forward such copy direct to the Transport Registration Officer.

(iii) The Transport Registration Officer, in connection with his next tour in the Transport sub-circle or its neighbourhood, shall arrange to have all the animals which their owners desire to have branded collected at a convenient centre on a specified date, and if any animal is produced for the purpose he shall satisfy himself as to its fitness and the value at which it is to be registered. If the owner accepts that value the Transport Registration Officer shall allot the animal to a particular unit or corps for mobilization and shall proceed to have the animal branded.

(iv) The brand shall be applied in the presence, and under the direction, of the Transport Registration Officer.

(vii) On receipt of information that an animal in his Transport sub-circle has been branded the Registration Assistant shall register such animal in the register maintained by him in the Form No. II appended to these rules.

(ii) The Registration Assistant shall be responsible that only fit animals are selected and when selected are duly registered by him in the register maintained by him in the Form No. II appended to these rules.

(iii) If an ordinary animal already registered is branded or brought under the token system the fact shall be noted in the register.

XII.—(i) No branded or token animal shall be struck off the register in Forms No. I or No. II except by, or at the request of, the Transport Registration Officer.

(ii) No ordinary animal shall be struck off the register in Form No. II except by order of the Tahsíldár or of the Transport Registration Officer.

I and II and may order any animal to be struck off by reason of its death or of its permanent removal from the Transport sub-circle or of its having become manifestly and permanently unfit, or for any other reason that seems to him sufficient. The power of revision extends to the alteration of the serial order in which animals may be requisitioned.

(iv) Whenever any animal is struck off from the register in the Form No. II the village in connexion with which such animal was registered shall be responsible for providing a substitute for it at once, and the Registration Assistant shall immediately proceed to select the substitute and register it in accordance with Rule X above. The Tahsíldár shall be responsible that the substitute is provided without delay.

I.—Owners of animals produced before a Committee in accordance with a notice or order issued under the Act, will receive from the officer presiding over the Committee a subsistence allowance for each animal, whether the animal is accepted or not. Such subsistence allowance shall be paid at a daily rate from the date on which the animal left its village and up to the date on which the animal is inspected by the Committee or, in case it is rejected or not required, for a further period subsequent to the date of the rejection or the declaration that it is not required sufficient to permit of its immediate return to its village; and the daily rate shall be four annas for each camel, mule, pony or bullock and two annas for each donkey, provided that the aggregate amount of subsistence allowance paid for any animal shall not exceed Rs. 2.

II.—All mules, ponies, donkeys and bullocks will, as a rule, be purchased, but when animals are hired, the monthly rates of hire will be—

	Rs.
For each camel	18
" " mule	12
" " pony	10
" " donkey	8
" " pack bullock	10
" " draught bullock	15 (including cart).

The monthly rates include the hire of necessary gear and the wages of attendants, one attendant being allowed for on account of every three camels, mules, or ponies, or of every five donkeys or pack bullocks, or of every cart. When attendants are not provided the rates above specified shall be subject to the following deductions, viz., for each camel, mule, or pony, Rs. 3-8-0 per mensem, and for each donkey or pack bullock Rs. 2 per mensem, and for each draught bullock including cart Rs. 5 per mensem.

Payment will commence from, and include, the date on which each animal is passed fit for service at the collecting stations, and will continue until the animal is discharged, dies or is destroyed. On discharge one day's hire will also be given for every fifteen miles from the place of discharge to the place of entertainment, or, in lieu thereof, free passage by rail will be allowed. When animals are entrained at a place where forage cannot be purchased in the open market, forage sufficient for the railway journey will be supplied free.

III.—If an owner, or his representative, dies in the field, and no other suitable representative is appointed by the owner within a reasonable time, the animals in his charge shall be bought by Government and payment shall be made for them as if they were acquired under Section 25 (3).

IV.—Full hire will be paid for all animals except in the following cases:—

(a) When animals become unfit for work and die before they are fit to return to duty, no hire will be paid for the period that they are sick, but, in this case, compensation under condition XI or XII is admissible.

(b) No hire will be paid for animals which may become unfit for work, owing to the owner's neglect or ill-treatment, during such period as they remain ineffective.

(c) No hire will be paid for animals whose owners or their representatives may desert, until suitable substitutes are provided.

V.—All animals will ordinarily receive a free issue of grain and salt (and also of fodder when grazing is impracticable) from the date of their being passed for Government service, and will in any case receive it from date of arrival at the base.

VI.—The attendants of hired animal will ordinarily also receive free rations from date of entertainment, and will in any case receive them from date of arrival at the base.

Free rations to men and animals will cease from date of discharge at the base.

VII.—Attendants of animals proceeding on service between April 1st and October 1st will receive a free issue of the following clothing, on the conditions upon which issues are made to Government servants of the same class, and this clothing will be renewed on field service when worn out.

1 Havresack.	1 Pagri.
1 Water-bottle, tin.	1 Belt, leather.

Attendants of animals proceeding on service between October 1st and April 1st will receive the following clothing on the same conditions:—

Summer and Winter scale.

2 Blankets, country.	1 Pair shoes.
1 Pair putties.	1 Pagri.
1 Havresack.	1 Belt, leather.
1 Water-bottle, tin.	1 Coat, warm.

Attendants proceeding on service between April 1st and October 1st, and remaining on service after October 1st, will receive the extra clothing necessary to make the summer issue of clothing up to the winter scale as above.

VIII.—Men becoming sick, or losing all their animals, may be sent to the place of entertainment by rail.

IX.—Necessary clothing for animals will be issued free, but may be taken back into store at the end of the campaign.

X.—If animals die owing to the fault of the owner or his representative, no compensation will be allowed.

XI.—If animals are destroyed to prevent the spread of disease, or if, through no fault of the attendants, they die from severity of weather, excessive work, or accidents, or, if they are killed, captured or stolen by the enemy, the full value of the animal fixed for it at the time of hire by the Committee shall be paid as compensation if information as to the value fixed is available at the time of assessing compensation, and if it is not so available the rates of compensation may be —

	Rs.
For each camel	80
" " mule	100
" " pony	60
" " pack bullock	30
" " draught bullock	40
" " donkey	30

but 50 per cent. above or 25 per cent. below these rates may be awarded by the General Officer Commanding.

XII.—For animals dying from causes other than these, through no fault of the owner or his representative, half the value fixed for such animal at the time of hire by the Committee shall be paid as compensation if information of the value fixed is available at the time of assessing compensation, and if it is not available the rates of compensation may be—

	Rs.
For each camel	40
" " mule	50
" " pony	30
" " pack bullock	15
" " draught bullock	20
" " donkey	15

but 50 per cent. above or 25 per cent. below half value or these rates may be awarded by the General Officer Commanding.

XIII.—If animals employed on active service on hire are purchased, payment will be made for them as if they were acquired under Section 25 (3). All payments for hire or compensation or for purchase of animals made in the field shall be made by a British officer.

PART II.

Conditions as to making payments during a campaign to owners of hired transport who do not themselves accompany their animals on field service.

I.—For each animal hired an owner's "parcha" certificate shall be made out. The "parcha" certificate shall show the assessed value of the animals, the amount due to the owner for the hire of each animal exclusive of the wages of attendants, and the manner and periods of the payments to be made, and one copy of it shall be given to the owner, a second copy being furnished to the Civil Officer of the district in which payments are to be made

II.—Owners of animals hired for military transport in war may elect to have the whole or any part of the hire of their animals paid in their districts or to have it paid to their agents in the field.

III.—If the owner elects to be paid in his district he shall be paid by the Civil Officer in charge of the district to which he belongs, in accordance with the following rules :—

(a) Commandants of transport corps composed of hired animals will prepare and furnish to the Civil Officers concerned on the last day of each month, or as soon afterwards as practicable, a monthly payment roll of payments due on account of hire and compensation to owners in their districts. Civil Officers shall make payments according to these payment rolls.

(b) The owner shall elect whether he will receive payments monthly or quarterly.

(c) After a lapse of 30 days from the end of every month or quarter, as the case may be, the Civil Officer shall, if payment rolls up to date have not then been received, pay to the owner, by money order or otherwise, the full amount due up to the end of the month or quarter according to the rates entered in his "parcha" certificate, less the commission on the money order, if any.

(d) Payments on "parcha" certificates only may be made in respect of any hire due for a period of three months after the commencement of hire or after the end of the last month for which a payment roll has been received, and for no further period.

(e) No payment on "parcha" certificate only shall be made after intimation has been received by the Civil Officer that any animal on account of which hire is due has been struck off the strength of the force.

(f) On receipt of the payment roll the Civil Officers concerned shall check any disbursements they have made on the "parcha" certificates only and shall deduct any excess payment made for hire from the amount of compensation or hire or both shown by the payment roll to be due to the owner.

(g) Intimation of an animal becoming non-effective shall be supplied to district officers by the corps commandant, who shall as each casualty occurs fill in a casualty roll and post it to the Civil Officer concerned. The Civil Officer shall send a copy to the owner of the animal.

The 1st December 1903.

Notification in connection with the suppl of transport and carriage required for military purposes during peace time.

No. 352.—Notification.—Whereas His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor has considered the matters relating to the supply of transport and carriage required for military purposes otherwise than on account of mobilization for active service, set forth in Circular No. 46, Section D, of the circulars issued by the Financial Commissioner, Punjab, and hereto annexed, and whereas he is satisfied that the said matters so far as they relate to the periods, terms and conditions of impressment for hire are both reasonable and necessary,

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, under the provisions of Section 25 (1) of the Punjab Military Transport Animals Act, I of 1903, to authorise all Collectors of all districts of the Punjab to impress animals for hire, in accordance with the said section of the said Circular, for military purposes other than on an occasion of the mobilization of troops for active service: Provided that the following animals shall be exempt from impressment, namely,—

(i) an animal branded under the provisions of the Act, and

(ii) a token animal, proved to be such by the production of the counterpart of the agreement referred to in Rule VII (3) of the Rules issued under the Act in Punjab Government Notification No. 351, dated 1st December 1903, unless the impressment of such token animal is authorized under the terms of the agreement.

" Extract from proposed issue of Revised Revenue Circular No. 46, corrected up to date."

D.—CARRIAGE.

Army Regulations, Volume X, sections 675, 720, 723—725, 727 28, 732, 739, 740, 742.

5. The responsibility for the supply of carriage for the movement of troops or for individuals in Military employ, authorised to travel at the public expense, rests in the first instance with the Supply and Transport Corps. It is only when that Corps is unable to meet the demand that a call will be made on the Collector. Officers, soldiers and their retainers are forbidden by the regulations to seize or impress carriage and are directed to apply to the Civil authorities in case of necessity. District Officers when called on to provide carriage should endeavour to arrange that the carts or animals impressed for this service are not kept waiting at the cantonment or station, where they are required, more than a day or two before the troops commence their march Under Rule VI of the Rules contained in Appendix XIV E. to the Army Regulations, Volume X, and reprinted at paragraph 6 below, carriage is paid for at full rates from the date on which it is taken up, and, if prematurely collected, an excessive charge for demurrage is imposed on the Military Department of which they may justly complain. The following instructions taken from the Army Regulations, will show the position of the Military authorities generally in the matter of carriage.

(a) Commanding Officers are required to comply with any special regulations for the supply and relief of carriage of the several provinces or districts in which the troops are about to move, and cause them to be strictly acted up to by all under their authority. These special regulations are detailed in Appendix XIV E.

(b) All requisitions on the Civil authorities for carriage must be forwarded in writing. District Officers are forbidden to supply carriage on verbal orders: in cases of emergency, when the applicant may not have the means at hand for preparing requisitions, they will furnish printed forms and the necessary writing materials.

In respect of relief of carriage District Officers are reminded that they should arrange for this at the stages ordered in the carriage rules of the Province, or at stations determined on at the time of engagement. To do this they should forward a copy of the requisition to the Deputy Commissioner concerned, and they should also inform the officer making the demand that this has been done. The officer making the demand will also make a similar application (vide the certificate attached to the requisition form, given in Rule II in paragraph 6 below), but this does not relieve the Deputy Commissioner to whom the original requisition is made from his responsibility. Special attention is invited to these orders as loss is often caused to Government by their neglect.

6. The special regulations applicable to the Punjab referred to in clause (a) of paragraph 5 above, are as follows:—

Ráwalpindi, Attock, Jhelum, Shahpur, Gujrát, Gujránwála, Dera Gházi Khan, Miánwáli, Muzaffargarh and Mooltan.

I.—If possible, not less than 15 days' notice is to be given to the District Officer of the quantity and description of carriage required, and as in the marginally noted districts carts are either not procurable at all, or obtained with difficulty, requisitions for carriage submitted to any District Officer in these districts should invariably specify the number of camels that are required in case carts are not procurable.

II.—Requisitions for carriage should be in duplicate, and in the subjoined form —

Date.	Name of applicant.	Description of carriage.	Quantity.	From and to what place.	Probable rate of arrival at the station at which carriage will be relieved	Estimated amount of hire due for the journey.	Amount paid in advance.	REMARKS.
								NOTE.—Whether payable by the State or by individuals.

Form of certificate at foot.

I hereby promise to apply to the Deputy Commissioner of (mentioning next relieving station) for exchange carriage, and, in case of dispute, to pay any sum which the Deputy Commissioner of the relieving district may declare to be due on account of carriage hire.

(Sd.) A. B.

III.—Unless in cases of emergency, such as the breaking down of carriage, death of cattle, &c., carriage or camels are not to be exchanged, except at the principal stations along the road Carriage will be relieved at Delhi, Karnál, Ambala, Hissar, Jullundur, Ferozepore, Amritsar, Lahore, Jhelum and Ráwalpindi. Regiments and detachments taking carriage at Jullundur and Ferozepore and proceeding north of Lahore, but which do not go west of the Chenab, may take the carriage obtained at the stations named to their destinations; if proceeding towards Mooltan, the carriage must be exchanged at Lahore. Regiments and detachments proceeding from Ambala to Ferozepore should have their carriage relieved at Ludhiána. In like manner, for troops going up-country from Ambala to Amritsar, a relief should be effected at Ludhiána, but in this case it will be unnecessary to charge the carriage again at Jullundur. For troops going down-country from Amritsar to Ambala, carriage will be relieved at Jullundur and not at Ludhiána. Carriage taken beyond such station without the written consent of the owner shall be paid for at double rates. The difference between ordinary and double rates will be a charge against the Military Department if the Commanding Officer of the regiment has failed to give due notice of his requirements or if a relief has been provided by the Civil Officer reponsible, but has not been taken up by the regiment or detachment for which it is supplied. If such relief has not been provided in spite of due notice to the Civil Officer, the excess payment will ordinarily be a charge against the Civil Department. The District Officer should report to the Commissioner each case in which he has declined to furnish a relief, assigning reasons for the same The Commissioner will notice any cases in which the reasons are not satisfactory; for much of the hardship entailed under existing arrangements upon owners of cattle is owing to the rules regarding relief not being attended to.

IV.—Whenever carriage is engaged to any place, half the hire must be paid in advance. The Civil Officer furnishing the carriage is bound to see that this advance is made before the carriage is made over to the applicant. The Commanding Officer of a regiment or detachment, or the individual taking carriage, shall be held responsible for the full payment of the carriage being made on its reaching the destination agreed upon, as well as for securing to each owner payment of hire for halts and any demurrage that may be incurred. The Civil Officer of the relieving district is bound before granting the passport referred to in Rule XIII and formally discharging the carriage to satisfy himself that the owners have been paid in full according to the prescribed rates. Should the Officer Commanding the regiment or detachment object to any payment which the Civil Officer finds to be due, the Civil Officer is authorized to make the payment and to send a bill for the amount paid by him to be adjusted as may be eventually ordered by higher authority. If under any circumstances a subordinate Civil Officer furnishes carriage without providing that the advance be paid, he is immediately to report the circumstance to his superior, on pain of being held personally responsible for the amount. The Civil Officer will report the circumstance direct to the Commanding Officer of the regiment and provide that full payment be made to the person engaged.

V.—The authorized loads are as follows:—

	Description of carriage.	Load
		Pakka road in plains.	Kacha road.	Hil.-road.

For maximum loads in the Ráwalpindi District see Rule VII (g) below.

VI.—The system at one time in force under which halts, back hire, and demurrage were charged at half the fixed rates was abolished many years ago, and in future all carriage must now be paid for at the rates hereinafter specified from the date on which it is engaged by the Civil authorities to the date of its discharge, both inclusive. For every day of the period so defined hire is to be paid at not less than the rates fixed for single stages for each day, but, if carriage is taken double marches, double rates must be paid for every such double march. For carriage employed in any part of the Punjab during the rainy season, or between the 1st of June and 1st of October, an additional charge will be made equivalent to 25 per cent. on the hire that would be leviable according to the subjoined rates. This rule is subject to the special provisions of the Simla Rules (VII (f) below) which allow half-rates for halts and back hire in certain cases and dispenses with the additional charge of 25 per cent.

VIII.—Monthly rates, where not specified, will be determined by mutual agreement.

The rules and tables of rates should also be hung up in dâk bungalows, seráis, tahsíls, thánás, and other public places.

XI.—The owner of carriage should be supplied with a copy of the requisition filled up in the English and Urdu characters. If any portion of the hire due is withheld, the presentation of this requisition to a Deputy Commissioner will enable him at once to enter upon the case, and adjudicate any dispute between the owners and employers of cattle. Not unfrequently from carriage breaking down on the line of march, it has to be relieved at other than the fixed relieving stations. The official who supplies fresh carriage, or in whose jurisdiction fresh carriage is obtained, is responsible for adjudicating the claim of hire on account of the relieved carriage. After the presentations the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor addressed the Darbar in Urdu. The following is an English version of the address :—

" SIRDARS, RAISES AND ZAMINDARS,—I am glad to have an opportunity to-day of rewarding some of you who are here present for services rendered to the people and Government by using your influence in promoting the adoption of proper plague measures. I propose to take advantage of the occasion in order to give you my counsel and advice as to what it is incumbent on you and the people of the Punjab generally to do to combat the outbreak from which I fear the Province must suffer during the plague season which is now at its commencement.

" A brief consideration of the course of plague in the past and of the present state of affairs will show you the imperative necessity for the people of every district of the Punjab to be fully prepared for outbreaks and to realise what they can and should do to protect themselves. In the plague year that has just come to an end, namely from the 1st October 1902 to the end of last September, there were reported 324,929 cases and 195,083 deaths, and in May last all but four districts of the Punjab were simultaneously infected. Of late it is true there has been comparatively little plague reported in the Punjab generally, but plague mortality throughout the Punjab is rising, and it is clear that recrudescence has begun. Not only is the disease reappearing in old infected districts such as this district of Gurdáspur, but it is still spreading towards districts that hitherto have had no plague. Ráwalpindi, Jhelum, Rohtak and Gurgaon are now infected, while a couple of cases have recently occurred in Delhi. If you recollect that the climax of the epidemic is not usually reached till the months of April and May, you cannot fail to appreciate the seriousness of the present outlook or to recognize the urgent necessity for taking all possible precautions on the assumption that the outbreak of 1903-04 will exceed every preceding outbreak in its extent and severity.

" It is hardly necessary for me to remind you that Government has long abandoned the idea of forcing plague measures on you by compulsion. The plague rules have recently been revised, and I have now omitted from them all reference to compulsion except in connection with a few matters. These matters are the reporting of cases and deaths, the use of compulsion to support you if you desire to secure the evacuation of infected villages or to prevent persons from infected places from taking up their residence in your neighbourhood, and the compulsory removal in Municipal towns from public places, serais and private houses of plague patients who are friendless and unattended and are unable to make any satisfactory arrangements for themselves. These, however, are the only purposes for which the use of compulsion will be permitted. You need therefore have no fear or hesitation in reporting accurately and promptly every case and death due to plague for the reporting of which the obligation is placed upon you.

" I will now pass briefly in review the different plague measures which should be adopted, and will show you how you can help yourselves to combat plague.

" In the new rules which have just been issued I have omitted the rules formerly in force with the object of preventing the spread of plague by controlling the movements of persons from infected places on the roads and railways and by regulating fairs, festivals and caste gatherings. But I must still ask you to bear carefully in mind that plague is spreading chiefly by human connection. Now that the matter is left to your own intelligence and free will I trust that you will adopt the simple measure of abstinence of intercourse with infected places, persons and things, which cannot fail to have the greatest effect in preventing the spread of the disease.

" When a place is infected it is a very wise precaution to isolate patients and to segregate those who have been in contact with them. This too is a measure which you can easily adopt for yourselves, and I regret to say that its importance has hitherto been overlooked.

" As to disinfection, I must inform you that experience has shown that chemical disinfection under the conditions which obtain in villages is not likely to be effective unless applied at the very beginning of an outbreak. But when so applied it is calculated to do much good, and in order to give you facilities for making the best possible use of chemical disinfection and at the same time to prevent waste of Government money I have determined to permit Government officers to give you chemical disinfection free of cost only when you ask for it at the very commencement of an outbreak in a village and before infection becomes general there. If you will apply for it under these conditions you will see that it is promptly supplied to you, but if you want it under other conditions you must either apply it for yourselves with chemicals which the officers of Government will sell you or it may be done for you by official agency if you are prepared to pay for it and if the staff is available. I wish, however, to remind you that desiccation affords you a cheap and an efficient means of disinfection which you can easily apply for yourselves, and I advise you strongly to make the fullest possible use of desiccation. The process is now well known in most districts of the Punjab, and I have arranged for a supply of simple and effective desiccators which you may borrow or buy and which you can use for yourselves without the necessity of having officials to help you. You must bear the expenses of bringing borrowed desiccators to your villages and of providing the fuel which they consume, but these are expenses which village communities may reasonably be called upon to bear themselves.

"I will pass now to the most valuable measure which you can adopt in infected villages. That measure is evacuation, and I must impress upon you most strongly the imperative necessity of making a real effort to secure the complete evacuation of infected villages in an effective manner. In consideration of the wide area which is now plague-stricken it is impossible for Government to assist you all by providing you with huts or undertaking the arrangements necessary when you evacuate your villages, and these are things which you may well be required to see to for yourselves. Every village community has funds or credit at its disposal, and it will, in my opinion, be proper and appropriate for you to draw upon your Malba funds in order to provide for evacuation. And if the majority of the inhabitants of any village really do desire to evacuate, the rules permit of their applying to the Deputy Commissioner and securing the compulsory evacuation of a minority that refuses to go out. The discomforts of the season difficulties connected with your cattle, and the exposure of property to the danger of theft, can be provided against if you make proper shelters for yourselves and your animals outside your villages and will take up your residence in those shelters with your property until infection has disappeared from your villages. Evacuation to be really effectual must be maintained for some considerable time, such as two months or so. The measure is not only effective, but is essentially simple, and is well within the reach of you all. Rats, as you know, are an important agency not only in indicating the presence of plague but also in spreading the disease, and it would be well if you took steps to destroy these animals in infected places, but if you are not prepared to do that you should at least never fail to neglect the warnings which they communicate to you. The advice then which I give you as strongly as I can is to evacuate your villages and to evacuate them thoroughly when plague occurs among rats or men, and in future when the question of rewarding services in promoting plague measures comes up for consideration preference will be given to those among you who have done their best to secure the adoption of evacuation.

"I now come to the measure of inoculation. Previously to the plague year 1902-03 a large number of persons had been inoculated in the Punjab, and here and elsewhere the efficacy of the operation had been fully established. Therefore in considering the manner in which Government could assist to combat plague in the epidemic of 1902-03 I determined to provide special facilities for inoculation and to press the measure especially upon your attention. I have to thank men of influence and intelligence throughout the Province, such as those whom I shall have the pleasure of rewarding here to-day, for the efforts which they made to further the acceptance of this measure. The special operations for which I had arranged commenced in October 1902 with much promise of success. But that promise, I regret to say, was not fully realised in so far as the inoculation of large numbers is concerned. Into the causes of this I need not here enter, but I can assure you that every precaution has now been taken to exclude from use in the Punjab all fluid except that of which the character is well known and the purity of which has been subjected to severe tests applied independently at Bombay and again in the Punjab. In 1902-03 the total number of inoculations amounted to 481,592, and I have no doubt whatever that many persons who would otherwise have been attacked escaped plague because they had been inoculated, while the figures before me show that of the 5,291 inoculated persons attacked by plague only 1,279 died. You can see for yourselves from the figures which I have given you that last year out of every 100 uninoculated persons who were attacked by plague only 39 recovered, whereas among inoculated persons who were attacked the number of recoveries in every 100 amounted to 76. Therefore I have no hesitation in again advising you to resort to it as a protection. The amount of approved fluid which we have in the Punjab is now very considerable, and I have directed that facilities for inoculation be provided at dispensaries and hospitals generally, and if it is found that people in any considerable numbers in any village or group of villages are anxious to be inoculated that a special officer shall be sent out to operate upon them. I shall be very glad to learn that you are availing yourselves of the facilities for inoculation which I am providing.

"I have hitherto dealt with the question of plague measures with reference to agricultural villages, and I may now add that with respect to all measures except evacuation and disinfection the measures appropriate for Municipal towns are generally the same. Evacuation is, I am afraid, impossible in most large towns, though when any considerable number of people desire to evacuate their houses in an infected quarter it will be the duty of Municipal Committees to provide them with sites and other facilities. In the absence of evacuation greater use must be made of disinfection in towns than in villages, and I desire that whenever any attacks or deaths are reported in a Municipal town chemical disinfection by official agency free of cost should immediately be offered to the occupants of the infected house, and I trust that the offer, when made, will be freely accepted.

"The plague policy now adopted by the Punjab Government has been adopted after anxious consideration, and though it leaves the acceptance or rejection of plague measures entirely to the option of the people and provides that assistance at Government expense shall not be given indiscriminately, I trust that you will recognize that this is due not to any reluctance on my part to assist you in every way that lies in my power, but to the impracticability of forcing you to accept any measures against your will throughout the wide area which is now plague-stricken. I have been compelled to leave you to take your own way in protecting yourselves and combating the calamity with which we are visited, but I am always ready to assist you in any manner that is possible, and, if you desire it, I will willingly give any Government assistance that will secure the effective adoption of any measures upon the necessity for which public opinion is agreed.

"It now only remains for me to accomplish the purpose for which this Darbar has been assembled and to distribute the rewards to those whose names have been recommended by the local officers."
